MARION WEEKLY STAR.

VOL. I. MARION, OHIO, SATURDAY AUGUST 8, 1885. NO. 9.

TAKING THE LAST LOOK.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY THOUSAND GAZE AT THE SILENT FACE.

Arrangements for the Reception of the Civic Officials in the Great Funeral Pageant—Long Line of Carriages. Confederates—General Notes.

NEW YORK, Aug 7—The crowd of spectators who were anxious to view the body continued to increase during the day The double line extended from the City Hall to Centre street and as far down as Franklin street on Broadway. It is estimated that from the time the iron gates of the City Hall leading into the vestibule were opened six thousand persons passed every hour by the casket. Fully 10,000 persons assembled in front of the City Hall, Printing House square and the adjacent streets while a double line extended as far as Broadway and Worth streets. The police arrangements were admirable and during the entire day very little trouble was experienced in keeping the vast multitude in line.

The verses written by the commissioner of public works, Squires, and placed by him in front of the City Hall last week, were removed by order of Mayor Grace, shortly after dark and two draped American flags were hung in the vacant places. These much discussed verses were as follows:

He bore aloft our sword of fire,
A world watched envied nation,
Where victory sang while troubling kings,
Bespeak our desolation
No flaw in age marked the Titans task,
No shrinking from the trust,
He faced the foe and freedom's hand,
Fell shattered from time's dial.

Since the verses were put up a storm has raged about them One newspaper described them as silly, another described them as ridiculous doggerel, and one exhausted its descriptive vocabulary in expressing its disgust. The general impression prevails that Mr Squire is neither lucid nor poetical He had faith in his verses, however and stood the storm of ridicule and denunciation without flinching It is said some members of the Grant family hinted that it would gratify them to see the verses taken down or hidden The crowds continued to pass into the hall and file past the casket at the rate of 100 a minute The guard over the remains consists of members of the Twelfth regiment N G S N Y, several members of the Loyal Legion, and a special guard from the Grand Army post. At 10 o'clock fully 5,000 persons were in line waiting their turn to view the body

At midnight the line of people waiting to view the body extended from City Hall to Grand street fully a mile At 12 30 the police cut the line half way, telling the people in the rear portion that as the doors closed at 1 o'clock it would be useless for them to wait longer At the time of closing the doors it was estimated that 152,000 persons had viewed the general's face since it reached the City Hall

Procession Pointers.

NEW YORK, Aug 7—Col. Hodges who has charge of the reception and transportation of official guests, has nearly completed his arrangements There will be about three hundred carriages in line The carriage in which President Cleveland will ride, will be drawn by six black horses. Immediately behind this carriage will follow six open carriages containing the vice president and members of the president's cabinet. Behind this will follow a carriage drawn by four horses, in which will be seated ex-Presidents Hayes and Arthur The other civic guests will follow in the order named below

United States senators, ten carriages.
Members of congress, sixteen carriages.
Admiral Jouett, one carriage.
Commodore Chandler, one carriage.
Foreign ministers, ten carriages.
Ex-foreign ministers, ten carriages.
Cabinet of Gen. Grant, four carriages.
Retired army officers, ten carriages.
Gen Grant's staff, two carriages.
Family and relatives, seven carriages.
Clergy, four carriages.
Attending physicians, two carriages.
Pallbearers, six carriages
Gen Sheridan and staff, four carriages.
Chiefs of bureau, war department, four carriages
Gen Schofield and staff, one carriage.
Judges of supreme court, six carriages.
Governor of Illinois and staff, eight carriages.
Governor of Michigan and staff, three carriages.
Governor of Wisconsin and staff, five carriages
Governor of Massachusetts and staff, ten carriages
Governor of New Hampshire and staff three carriages.
Governor of Connecticut and staff, four carriages.
Governor of Maine and staff, two carriages.
Governor of Vermont and staff four carriages
Governor of Pennsylvania and staff, twelve carriages
Governor of New Jersey and staff, fifteen carriages
Governor of Rhode Island and staff, four carriages
Governor of Iowa and staff, two carriages.
Governor of Dakota and staff, two carriages
Governor of Virginia and staff, three carriages
Representatives of governor of Indiana, two carriages
Legislature of New York, thirty carriages.
Gen Franklin, president Soldiers' Home, one carriage
Messrs Drexel and Childs, one carriage
Board of Indian commissioners, two carriages
Mayor and representatives of the city of Brooklyn fifteen carriages
Mayor and common council of New York, forty five carriages
Mayor and common council of Boston, six carriages
Mayor and common council of St. Louis, carriages.
Mayor and common council of Hartford, three carriages.
Mayor and common council of New Haven two carriages
Mayor and common council of Jersey City, twelve carriages.
Mayor and common council of Elizabeth, three carriages.
Order of Cincinnati, five carriages.
Wheeler and Grant posts, G. A. R., four carriages.

Captured Crooks.

NEW YORK, Aug 7—Eighteen pickpockets, arrested by Central office detectives along the line of the funeral procession, were taken to the Jefferson market police court. John McCarthy was held for trial. Jas. Francis, of St. Paul, was held for trial. John English was committed for one month. Geo. McGlone was also held for one month. M. Harris was held. A similar disposition was made of Thomas Green, Chas. Harris and Peter McCormick.

The other prisoners, all of whom are known as professional pickpockets, were: James Merritt, John Murphy, alias "Little Red," Jos. Smith, alias "Hamilton," Geo. Brown, alias "Nigger Baker," a bank sneak; Thos. Brady, alias "Kid" Brady, Timothy Oates, alias "the Breezer," Wm. Peck, alias "Earney," Wm. Darling, alias "the English Darling," Belle Little, alias "Mary Hart," described as a "badger puller," Thos. Nichols, alias "Buckshot," John Mackin, John H. Keller, Simon Josephs, Mike McGannon, Wm. McGann, members of the "Whyo Gang," Albert Goodley and Wm. Smith, a forger and confidence man. These were all remanded, it being the purpose to keep them under lock and key until Monday, when their opportunity to operate will have dwindled away.

Confederate Soldiers.

NEW YORK, Aug 7—Under the new resolution adopted at the meeting of ex-Confederate soldiers the following gentlemen were appointed as the committee to represent southern soldiers in the funeral obsequies on Saturday Generals, W. W Loring, R. D Lilley, Thomas P. Dockery and Thomas J Clingman, colonels, Thomas L. Snead, W L. Duff, W. B Starrett and J H Anderson, majors, William Hancock Clark, W H. Quincy, J R. McNuity, F. G Fontaine, G E. Suesdorf and D B Bridgeford, captains, William M. Conner, John A. McCaul, George Dunlap, Wilson McDonald, J H Blakemore, J H Francis and James E Traybills, lieutenants, W P Mongue, Thomas A. Young and H M. Bullington, sergeant, A. M. Davies, and privates, John B Mayo, Douglas Walker and John Holbert. The committee meet at the Hoffman house.

General Joseph Johnson.

CHICAGO, Aug 7—Gen Joseph Johnson, the well known Confederate leader, arrived from Portland, Oregon, and left for New York on the 5 o'clock train The general expressed himself very much gratified at having the opportunity to pay his respects to the memory of Gen. Grant and thought that both north and south should do honor to his memory The general was averse to giving his opinion of the dead hero as a general, but felt sure that Gen. Grant hastened the conclusion of the war in a remarkable manner

Grand Army Meeting.

BALTIMORE, Aug 7—A largely attended meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic has been held. It is estimated that, combined, the various posts of the city will send about one hundred and fifty men to Gen. Grant's funeral. Resolutions were passed, urging the raising of a sum of money sufficient to raise a monument to the memory of Gen Grant, "that would reflect the greatness our late comrade's services, as well as the grandeur of the Grand Army of the Republic."

General J. B. Gordon.

NEW YORK, Aug 7—Gen. J B Gordon, of Georgia, has been appointed one of the ex-Confederate aides on Gen. Hancock's staff for Saturday

[illegible] ST. JOHN'S GALL.

He Shamelessly Proclaims Himself the Prince of Liars.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 7—The following special telegram appears in the Commercial Gazette from Springfield, O.: "The Globe Republic published a card from the New York Voice, Prohibition organ, by St. John, of Kansas, denying that he asserted in his Springfield speech when Dr Leonard was nominated, that the charge that there was any bulldozing, fraud, intimidation or violence at the polls at Danville, Va., or Copiah county, Mississippi, was false In his card St John says: 'When the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette asserts that I ever used any such language as that above, it stated an absolute falsehood. I never used any such language, or made any statement which would bear any such construction.'

"In an editorial comment the Globe-Republican says it would be much better for Mr St. John to plead that he did not know what he did say in his one-hundred-dollar address at the Springfield Prohibition convention There can be brought any number of witnesses who were there who heard Mr St John utter the words quoted above Does the Voice want thirty or forty witnesses against St. John to nail the lie properly?

"Your correspondent heard St. John's speech reported it phonographically and wrote it out for publication. St. John did use the language attributed to him, and in denying that he did so St. John proves himself the prince of liars. Affidavits of a hundred of the best citizens of Springfield could easily be obtained to that effect.

"St. John's remarks, to which he now objects, were published in all the local papers, even in the Springfield New Era, the Prohibition organ, and in the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette the next morning, while St. John was there, and he never denied them. They attracted universal attention at the time. Of the hundreds of Prohibitionists who heard St. John not one had ever thought of questioning the accuracy of the report. The denial is published at this late day in a New York paper, because St. John is going to that state to try and hoodwink the Republicans of that state. It is hard to see now how Dr Leonard can refuse to come out openly and denounce St John a liar'

Passenger Agent Killed.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug 7—G P Humphreys, traveling passenger agent of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio railroad, was killed in this city while attempting to jump from a passenger train on the Atlanta & West Point railroad.

THE PITH OF THE NEWS.

THE TRANSPIRINGS OF A DAY AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Lieutenant Greely's Absence Extended to Regain His Strength—Postmasters. Dismissed and Reinstated — Mail Matters—Mr. Kelley—Notes.

WASHINGTON, Aug 7—Lieut Greely's leave of absence has been extended on account of sickness, in order that he may longer stay abroad in the hope of regaining his health, which never entirely recovered from the effects of his terrible experiences in the Arctic regions. His condition of late has caused his friends much solicitude. The failure of congress to reward his services with a promotion had a very depressing effect upon him. His leave as first granted last month was for four months, and now has been extended nearly two months. While abroad Lieut. Greely will make a point of visiting the different geographical societies.

Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Aug 7—The president has commissioned the following named postmasters: Wm. B Alexander, Pine Bluff, Ark, Samuel H Smith Winston, N C; G J Love, Huron, Dak, John F Pine, Vinton, Iowa, Wm. E. Black, Gallatin, Mo., Mrs Mary T Pender, Tarboro, N C, Johnson A. Bennett, Readsville, N C, John F Wedow, Marine City, Mich, Samuel De Wolf, Rochester, Minn, Thos Hall, Preston, Minn, Jacob Vandegrift, Riverside, Cal, G J Spohn, Superior, Neb, Thos. B. Crawford, Grand Junction, Col, Samuel Berr, Winchester, Ill, Benj L. Long, Greenville, Ala., Chas. W Howe, Rochester, N H, Warner L. Howard, Fairhaven, Vermont.

Reinstated.

WASHINGTON, Aug 7—Secretary Manning has ordered the reinstatement of Professor Boutell, who was discharged from the position of first assistant superintendent of the coast survey when Auditor Chenowith began his investigation of affairs in the coast survey office. Professor Boutell has been in the service of the government for forty three years, and his scientific services during the war were regarded as of the utmost importance.

Dismissed.

WASHINGTON, Aug 7—Secretary Manning has dismissed the following inspectors of foreign steam vessels S F Phillips, Michael Conkling and David G Ilesple, at New York, Frederick Washington, New Orleans, Elisha Whitney, Boston, Nelson Pierce, San Francesco, and John Laughlin, Philadelphia. He also dismissed Lewis W Peck as clerk to the board of Inspectors at New York.

Tarring the Mail.

WASHINGTON, Aug 7—Superintendent Bell, of the foreign mail bureau, has directed all United States mail for Italy, which passes across France, to be forwarded in tarred sacks. This was done at the request and suggestion of the Italian postmaster general, to prevent the introduction of cholera from France into Italy

Changed Mail Routes.

WASHINGTON, Aug 7—Until further notice, mails from the United States for China and Japan, will be sent via England, thence through the Suez Canal to destination, instead of by Pacific mail steamers from San Francisco.

Mr. Kelley.

WASHINGTON, Aug 7—The state department has received a dispatch from Mr Lee, secretary of the American legation at Vienna, stating that the Austrian government has positively refused to recognize Minister Kelley Timber Agents.

WASHINGTON, Aug 7—Joseph Coburn, of Colorado, was appointed a special agent of the land office to investigate timber depredations in the Northwest.

Lord Wolseley.

LONDON, Aug 7.— Gen. Lord Wolseley has been reappointed to his office of adjutant general of the forces.

POSTMASTER JONES.

Another Attempt to be Made to Secure His Removal.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug 7.—The vindication of Postmaster Jones by the civil service commission, is the talk of the street. Almost everybody is satisfied except the Mugwumps, who say they are not through yet. They do not seem to think they have had enough, although the general opinion is that one black eye ought to be sufficient. They proclaim, however, that they have other charges to file against Mr Jones, and say that they will urge upon the president, first that it is his duty to remove Mr Jones so that the spirit and effectiveness of the civil service law may be sustained in spite of the report of the commission, and second because Mr Jones has been guilty of offensive partisanship in removing competent employes for none other than political reasons

Lucius Swift places a good deal of reliance upon his influence with the president, and says

"The only remedy is in the hands of the president, and to him we will appeal. If he becomes satisfied, as we are now, that such an interpretation of the law, allowing postmasters to make removals indiscriminately, really vitiates its spirit and evident purpose, it will be his duty to remove Mr Jones, and we shall present the matter to him in this light

Lost in the Arctic.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 7—The Commercial News will publish the arrival off the coast of the schooner James A. Garfield, twenty six days from the arctic, with news that the bark Napoleon, of New Bedford, has been crushed in the ice, and twenty-two lives lost, including W Rogers, New Bedford, first officer and Thomas Pease, of the same place, third officer The Gazelle, of San Francisco, was also crushed in the ice The crew was saved The steamer Bacleut, also of this port was stove in by ice, but has been sufficiently repaired to finish her cruise. The season was stormy and late, with an unusual quantity of ice

Arsenic in the Stomach.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7—When Mrs. Clara Groblewski, second wife of Joseph Groblewski, a saloon keeper in Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, died a few weeks ago, after a brief illness, her friends suspected foul play The funeral was stopped. Afterwards it was found that there was arsenic in the stomach The husband and Wimifred Hanley, who had been a servant in the family for some time, were arrested, and are now in jail awaiting trial on a charge of murder There is testimony that Groblewski refused to provide his wife with medical attendance, while Wimifred Hanley was more like a mistress of the house than a servant. Another discovery was now made. The remains of the first wife were taken from the Holy Cross cemetery in a remarkable state of preservation, and portions were removed for analysis Dr Grote, the analytical chemist of the board of health, reported that he had found arsenic present in large quantities. Acting under the advice of their lawyer, Groblewski and Miss Hanley refuse to make any statement.

He Took No Heed of Warning.

VIRGINIA, Ill., Aug 7—Thomas Chapman, a farmer, living five miles west of here, was shot and killed by Elias Davis, a neighbor It was claimed that Chapman had for several years been paying undue attentions to Davis' sister, and Davis repeatedly warned him to desist, but without effect. Davis came upon them while they were sitting upon a log talking, and without notice raised his shotgun and fired The load entered Chapman's body near the right nipple, causing death within a few minutes Davis then went to a neighbors, told them what he had done and where they would find the body It is reported that Davis is in town and will surrender himself to officers.

A Wisconsin Blaze.

MARINETTE, Wis, Aug 7—Fire destroyed an entire block of stores The Menomonee fire department was called upon for assistance and by its aid the fire was prevented from spreading to other portions of the village, and was extinguished after burning almost three hours The loss is estimated at between $80,000 and $100,000 The stock in the stores wiped out were nearly consumed, very little being saved The mail matter in the postoffice was gotten out before the office went. The heaviest sufferers are Moyes & Sons, proprietors of the Marinette Eagle, who lose between $12,000 and $15,000 on type, presses, etc. The fire takes out the principal business places of the town.

Lightning's Freak.

OMAHA, Neb, Aug 7—Robert Thompson while on his way to the Union Pacific shops, was killed by lightning which struck him on the top of the head, making a small hole and coming out between the second and third toes of the right foot, leaving a small hole at its exit Outside of these two wounds there is not a blemish of any kind on the body nor even any discoloration, his clothing was torn into shreds and scattered A number of physicians and scientific men inspected the body and pronounced the case remarkable, owing to the slight disfiguration and complete destruction of the clothing, showing that a portion of the current must have passed through the clothing without discoloring the body

Boiler Explosion

COSHOCTON, O, Aug 7—The large steam boiler of the Karl foundry at Shanesville, O, exploded with terrific force, which lifted the boiler from its foundation and shot it through the air a distance of 120 feet where it crushed through an adjoining building and landed on a second shed Two men, Allen Kock and J Karl, were working at the engine, about eight feet from the boiler, when it exploded They escaped with but light bruises received from flying debris The entire roof was blown off the engine room and the walls leveled to the earth leaving the workmen standing almost unharmed Pieces of timber and heavy bars of iron were thrown through the air a distance of 300 feet The escape of the employes is the most miraculous on record

Short $40,000.

BURLINGTON, Kan, Aug 7—D V Mott the missing treasurer of this county, left here a week ago for Topeka. He was last heard from July 30 at Kansas City He expressed $5,000 to the state treasurer before starting from here, and carried between seven thousand and eight thousand dollars in drafts and money Many believe that he has been murdered and others that he has absconded The county commissioners have taken the matter in charge, and it is reported that a hasty examination shows a shortage of $40,000

Swamped in the Turkey Business.

PARIS Ky, Aug 7—W W Gill, one of the best known merchants in this section made an assignment to W A Parker The cause of the assignment is said to be losses sustained in shipping dressed turkeys to eastern markets His assets consist of a grocery dwelling house and 2,700 gallons of whisky On these two last items are mortgages of $3,000 each The total assets are $15,000 liabilities unknown, possibly about the same amount.

Business Defeat.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich Aug 7—The mills of Eaton, Potter & Company and Rust Brothers & Company have started on the same conditions as before the strike, with a full force Representative Barry labored earnestly with the men to induce them to stay out but without effect The men of Rust, Eaton & Company signed a petition to the firm to go to work at the old terms and it is reported the mill will start immediately A number of other mills at this end of the river will start this week or on Monday next at the old arrangement as to hours and wages.

Fleeing the City.

NEW YORK, Aug 7—Inspector Byrnes said "You won't see a first class crook in the city by Saturday Those that are known feel sure that they will be arrested if they are on the street, and they will be arrested On one of my men to-day I saw a thief bracelet him for a five-dollar note to get out of town Any place will be safer for thieves than New York from now until next week I know for a fact that the professional crooks are leaving the city If they stay they will all be arrested as suspicious characters"

CHURCHILL'S VENOM.

HE DISCUSSES PURELY FINANGIAL QUESTIONS POLITICALLY.

The Cordial Meeting of Royalty at Gastein—William's Step is Very Feeble. The Pope Indisposed — The Far East—Censured—Foreign Notes.

LONDON, Aug 7—The discussion of the Indian budget in the house of commons gave Lord Randolph Churchill occasion for his first speech in his official capacity as secretary for India. Lord Churchill adopted the usual course of sending to the reporters' gallery, before hand, a synopsis of the argument he was about to make. The explanation of the budget was generally well received by the house and the speech created a good impression at the start, but the introduction at the close of a brutal and actually scurrilous attack upon Lord Ripon, the late viceroy of India, gave rise to an angry feeling and was met with numerous expressions of disapproval and even disgust. On the whole, the young minister's speech may be said to have increased his unpopularity

Royalty Meets.

BERLIN, Aug 7—The Emperor and Empress of Austria have arrived at Gastein The Emperor of Germany, dressed in Austrian uniform, greeted them warmly and all exchanged kisses. After tea the Emperor William gallantly offered to escort the empress about the springs, and she as politely declined, lest the walk should be too much and fatigue his majesty At night the village was brilliantly illuminated The Emperor William and the Emperor Francis-Joseph walked out together and were greeted with great enthusiasm by the people The Emperor William's step was very feeble, however, and their majesties soon returned to the palace.

The Pope Indisposed.

ROME, Aug 7—The new archbishop of Dublin will go to the Engadine for a short period of repose before going to Ireland to assume his duties The pope is indisposed he has suspended audiences until the 10th instant.

Cholera in France.

PARIS, Aug 7—There were thirty three deaths from cholera at Marseilles. There are rumors of the appearance of cholera in Paris, but the authorities frown upon any attempt to reveal the actual state of affairs

In Zanzibar.

BERLIN, Aug 7—Dr Juhicke of the German East African Society has arrived in Berlin He reports great acquisitions by the company in Zanzibar and the adjacent territory.

Censured.

LONDON, Aug 7—The Standard and all the Liberal newspapers censure Lord Randolph Churchill for discussing a purely financial question in a political manner

Importation Prohibited.

AMSTERDAM, Aug 7—Holland has prohibited all importations from the French and Spanish Mediterranean ports during the existence of the cholera.

The Banns Announced.

PARIS, Aug 7—The marriage of the famous actress Croisette to the wealthy Berlin Banker Stern, is authoritatively announced

Yachting.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass, Aug 7—The Puritan beat the fleet into Vineyard Haven, the Priscilla being second The cutter Gesta did not sail for the New York Yacht club fleet, but started early in the morning and entered Vineyard Haven soon after 1 o'clock She was not in sight when the fleet left New Bedford, but the Puritan and other boats overhauled her rapidly The Puritan led the racing craft and looked a perfect beauty, as she came in under full canvas. The Priscilla did splendidly in the latter part of the race.

A Chinaman's Victim.

ST PAUL, Minn., Aug 7—Hon Won Hong, a Celestial laundryman of this city, married Mary Schneider, a German girl The bride is extremely beautiful, and has been in America but six weeks. She has been employed as ironer in Hong's laundry Hong is a good looking Celestial with a big bank account, is a descendant of the royal family, and his father is mayor of Canton, China. He proposes to give a grand banquet at the Hotel Ryan next week in honor of the marriage Collision at Sea.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass, Aug 7—The schooner Cox and Green, of Greenpoint, L. I, Boston for Baltimore, arrived and reports that she collided, off Woodsholl, with the schooner Eliza B Coffin, of Bangor, Hoboken for Boston, with coal The Coffin sank immediately The captain, wife and two sons were rescued from the water The crew were taken from the rigging Captain of the sunken schooner had a leg badly broken in two places.

The Wheat Crop.

ST LOUIS, Aug 7—From tabulated statement published in the Globe-Democrat, covering over three hundred places, received by a firm of flour merchants from milling correspondents in Kansas, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, it appears that the present wheat crop, compared with 1884, shows thus. Missouri, 4¾ per cent., Illinois, 32½ per cent., Indiana, 55 per cent., Kansas, 37 per cent.

Poisoned Condensed Milk.

ELMIRA, N Y, Aug 7—A three months old child of Senator J, bloat Fassett, died from poison contained in condensed milk The child was one of twins The other one was made sick by the milk but will recover They are grandchildren of Mrs Crocker, of California

A Mother Hangs Herself.

ASSUMPTION, Ill., Aug 7—The wife of Charles Bushby, owner of thoroughbred horses, committed suicide by hanging at Mowaqua, Ill The horrible tragedy was committed at her own home, in the presence of her twelve-year old daughter, who gave the alarm She fastened a skein of yarn around her neck, and with one end attached to the upper part of an open door, she took her own life. When the body was taken down life was extinct The deceased is the daughter of a wealthy New York lady

BRIEF ITEMS.

The Daily News Narrowed Down for the Hasty Reader.

The Sixteenth O V I held their reunion at Millersburg, O

There are indications of further troubles in the Hocking valley

Mrs McElroy was killed by an express train near Bellaire, O

Grasshoppers are demolishing the clover fields of Licking county, Ohio

Mrs. Charles Bushby, of Mowaqua, Ill, committed suicide by hanging

The veteran Capt. T P Leathers is again dangerously ill at New Orleans.

The crops in Southern Illinois are better than they have been for several years.

John T Gathright has been appointed surveyor of customs for the port of Louisville, Ky

Vice President Hendricks says of Gen Grant "He was the greatest man of his time"

Mrs Thomas Farrell, wife of a farmer living near Newark, O, eloped with a cousin

The postoffices at Turner and Southport, Ill., were burglarized and robbed of their contents.

Geo W Cormany, a Cincinnati attorney, is accused before the police court of subornation of perjury

Daniel B Crozier, a brakeman on an I, B & W freight train, was crushed to death at Springfield, O

John C Broaly, living about ten miles southwest of Lexington, Ind, was shot and killed as he lay in bed

The house near Appomattox court house, where Lee surrendered to Grant, has been draped by the citizens

G W. Anderson was shot and killed at Mexia Tex, by S C Lewis, who claims it was done in self-defense

Cal Smith, arrested with his brother William for the murder of Robert Virgin, died at Memphis, Tenn

Agents for a patent washing machine have succeeded in victimizing several farmers in the vicinity of Jasper, Ind

The cases of yellow fever at Mazatlan and Tehuantepec, Mexico, are not violant, and are being successfully treated

Dr Galusha Anderson has resigned the presidency of the Chicago university Nearly a year's salary is due him

A meeting of the national executive committee of the Irish League of America will assemble in Chicago August 15.

F. B. Dunton, recently appointed postmaster at Center Lincolnville, Me., is in jail at Portland, charged with embezzlement.

Mrs. McElroy and her two boys, of St. Clairsville Junction, O, were injured and killed by a train on the Baltimore & Ohio, near Bellaire

An explosion of gasoline in the cellar of a store in Germantown, Pa., resulted in the instant death of four men and the fatal injury of one other

Harvey Lindeman, who was shot by Policeman Roddy in Cincinnati during a street scuffle, died Roddy is held for murder in the second degree

Big Celebration.

EVANSVILLE, Ind, Aug 7—The entire population of the thriving village of Henderson, Ky, spent their time of arranging for the grand celebration in honor of the opening of the bridge over the Ohio, which makes Evansville the great centre of travel between the north and south At an early hour strangers poured into the town from all parts of the surrounding country, and all received a genuine Kentucky welcome All the public and business houses were appropriately decorated, but on account of an unfortunate rain the procession had to be dispensed with At night, however, there was a grand banquet at which a large number of prominent men in Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky Missouri and Ohio made addresses Altogether the occasion was made a memorable one

Tar Well Explodes.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn, Aug 7—A tar well situated under a coal shed connecting the purifying and oil works of the gas works here exploded about midnight, throwing the whole city in darkness and giving rise to a report that the gas works themselves were blown up The coal shed and tar well are total wrecks, otherwise the gas works are intact The loss is about two thousand five hundred dollars One of the workmen shut off the gas from the city needlessly, but it was left off for fear of endangering life and property from jets which had been left burning during the night

Ohio and Gettysburg.

CINCINNATI, Aug 7—The Veterans who were appointed to select a site for a monument to be erected by the state on the battlefield of Gettysburg, in honor of the Ohio soldiers who fell there will leave on Tuesday evening next Round trip tickets will be sold by the Pan handle route at the rate of $18 55 from Cincinnati to Gettysburg and return Proportionate low rates will be made from Columbus and other prominent points on the Pennsylvania line in the state of Ohio

Killed by Wild Cats.

WAYNESVILLE, N C Aug 7—A ten year old daughter of Henry Clements, who lives in the backwoods of the regions of Jackson county, strayed away from home one morning and was not missed until evening A search resulted in finding the mangled body in the woods half eaten by wild animals There were evidences of an awful struggle in the vicinity and the bushes far and near were covered with blood The animals are believed to have been wild cats

Brutal Policeman.

PITTSBURG, Aug 7—An unknown man was creating a disturbance on the cars on a street in the South Side, when Officer Thomas Bender attempted to arrest him The man resisted arrest and the officer struck him twice on the head with a handy billy The man fell to the pavement and died in a few minutes The officer was arrested shortly afterward and locked up

Baltimore & Ohio Strikers.

CONNELLSVILLE Pa, Aug 7—All the crews on the freight trains of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad have struck for shorter hours and higher wages, and for a discontinuance of the double header system.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®
NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

GRANT'S DEATH-BED.

[illegible] FROM THE LAST PHOTO[illegible] OF HIM EVER TAKEN

[illegible] Millions [illegible] Before Me —Peace-[illegible] of a Year's [illegible]

[illegible] —It could only be with [illegible] at the [illegible] that [illegible] Grant was [illegible]

[illegible] the main facts of [illegible] everything con[illegible] rest. In the [illegible] attention. The [illegible] Then came [illegible] Garfield [illegible] our [illegible] He was [illegible] no other [illegible] is mourned [illegible] Washington and Lin[coln]

[illegible] of the general's life [illegible] McGregor near Saratoga [illegible] June 16 there was an [illegible] that he would [illegible] till he was [illegible] He rallied at first [illegible] during the intense [illegible] July 21 it be-[illegible] physicians that death was [illegible] of his family [illegible] to look for. From the time this hint [illegible] about him and watched [illegible] go out hour by hour

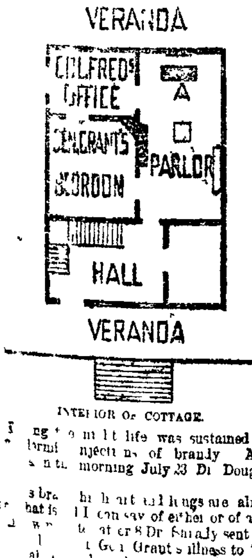

AT LAST

To [illegible] July 22 the general [illegible] Col Fred Grant and [illegible] at one side of the [illegible] room and on the veranda [illegible] most of the last five weeks [illegible] a chair because the gathering [illegible] would have strangled [illegible] posture. But now when [illegible]

[illegible] to lie down, father? he [illegible]

[illegible] to rise but fell back and [illegible] breast Col Fred [illegible] couch and [illegible] I was the first [illegible] he had thus lain [illegible] he must [illegible] night they watched him [illegible] him fanning him, [illegible] had her [illegible] shoulder stood [illegible] beloved [illegible] stood at the [illegible] watching his [illegible] could [illegible] Lan[illegible] nine [illegible] [illegible] side of [illegible] Grant [illegible] three

INTERIOR OF COTTAGE.

[illegible] life was sustained by [illegible] injections of brandy At 6 [illegible] morning July 23 Dr Douglas

[illegible] lungs are alive [illegible] I can say of either or of all [illegible] Dr Shrady sent the [illegible] Gen Grant's illness to The [illegible] under the headline At [illegible] the story

[illegible] had not moved from [illegible] during the night except at [illegible] minutes. Twice during [illegible] whispered [illegible] to [illegible] Mrs Grant dipped hand [illegible] water and [illegible] his lips [illegible]

[illegible] and waited At length [illegible] came [illegible] Mr Sartoris, don't you [illegible] know Nellie? [illegible] fixed them on this [illegible] with a faint look of recog[nition] [illegible] and touching story of [illegible] is taken from The New

[illegible] last face he saw In a [illegible] a weary look [illegible] his life left him

[illegible] clock No a leaf [illegible] warm morning [illegible] in the [illegible] light [illegible] and had [illegible] kindly-[illegible] a por[illegible] it was [illegible] off the [illegible] that the [illegible] New [illegible] of [illegible] Boston had [illegible] about the cottage for [illegible]

days. He had sat in the porch during much of that sus[pen]seful night. He was a warm personal friend of Gen. Grant, but that did not prevent him from having a good [illegible] Man must eat. At 6 30 o'clock Rev Dr Newman proposed to Dr Douglas that they two go [illegible] to the hotel and get breakfast. Dr Douglas declined, saying he did not think it safe to leave Gen Grant's bedside. Still retaining his excel[lent] appetite however Dr Newman went alone The fare at Hotel Balmoral is said to be very good The reverend doctor was enjoying [illegible] morning [illegible] when word [illegible] after 8 that the [illegible] He [illegible] his good break[fast] [illegible] But [illegible] Much to his regret [illegible] [illegible] at the death [illegible]

Gen Grant took to his bed only about [illegible] hours before his death

THE LAST PHOTOGRAPH

Six days before the end came he sat on the veranda in the morning reading a newspaper Unknown to him, Mr John Gilman the photographer at Mt McGregor, took an excellent picture of him by the instantaneous process It is a striking picture and one that we are fortunate to secure The general's wasted hands, whitened beard and straggling locks of hair and [illegible] cheeks, tell more than words can of the sleepless agony that had broken this strong man

He had at no time dreaded death itself He said once that Dr Newman was his personal friend not his spiritual adviser Concerning death, he remarked "I can safely [illegible] that millions have gone before me. It is a remarkable saying on the [illegible] But many of Grant's sayings were remarkable The last voluntary utterance of his life was this 'I do not want anybody distressed on my account'

For about six weeks before he died he had been unable to speak above a whisper, some times not at all To prevent fatigue a pencil and writing pad were provided, and he expressed his wishes by that means One of the first [illegible] alone after his life [illegible] out forever [illegible] passing away of [illegible] He could never [illegible]

[illegible] his death should be at [illegible] frightful physical suffering [illegible], let us thank God he was spared He [illegible] out as peacefully as the light fades off [illegible] sunset [illegible]

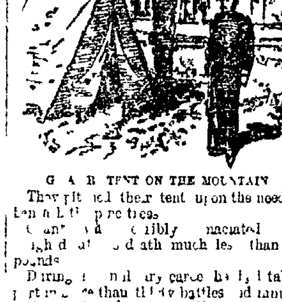

He would have died months ago, only that [illegible] determination [illegible] of the war [illegible] at rest A week [illegible] and better [illegible] Dr Douglas [illegible] Grant wrote

[illegible] living [illegible] condition [illegible] I feel quite as [illegible] I feel more [illegible] than in any [illegible] of desire to [illegible]

Dr Douglas endeavored to cheer him by telling him of the comfortable condi[tion] [illegible] length. [illegible] only wrote

"After all that I [illegible] ever the disease is still there and must [illegible] in the end My [illegible] to my family and [illegible] could recover entirely There never was one more willing to go than I I know most people have first one and then another [illegible] to fix up and never get quite through This was partially my case I first wanted so many days to work on my book so the authorship would be clearly mine It was graciously granted to me, after being apparently much lower than since, and with a capacity to do more work than I ever did in the same time. My work had been done so hastily that much was left out and I did it all over from the crossing of the James river in 1864 to Appomattox in 1865 Since that I have added as much as fifty pages to the book, I should think There is nothing more to do, and, therefore, I am not likely to be more ready to go than at this moment"

The general's body is still at Mt. McGregor A detail of his own beloved old soldiers from Wheeler post G. A. R guard the cottage from stupid and vulgar intruders.

G A R TENT ON THE MOUNTAIN

They pitched their tent upon the needles [illegible]

[illegible] terribly emaciated He [illegible] death much less than 100 pounds

During [illegible] military career he had taken part in [illegible] than thirty battles and numerous [illegible] He was president [illegible] of the Army of the Potomac During his illness he signed 500 certificates [illegible] of that organiza[tion] [illegible] the old command [illegible]

[illegible] Grant left [illegible] concerning his [illegible] place except that it be in some spot [illegible] beside him when [illegible] Immediately on his [illegible] sepulture were ele[illegible] from the Na[illegible] and [illegible] city [illegible] Central park The board of alder[men] accepted the offer. After some consid[eration] the proposition was accepted.

[illegible] only will lie in the [illegible] New York city. A [illegible] for [illegible] the whole be permitted to contribute [illegible] The veins [illegible]

PRINCESS [illegible]

[illegible] the United Dis[illegible]

[illegible] Lauen[illegible] Mudrea [illegible]

[illegible] be mar[ried] [illegible] Europe is [illegible] But the [illegible] poor things [illegible] She has [illegible] the fav[illegible] whispered [illegible] waifs of her [illegible] Louise remarked confide[illegible]

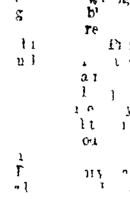

[illegible] end of a [illegible] children [illegible] that is quite high [illegible]

DR CROUCH WHIPPINGHAM [illegible]

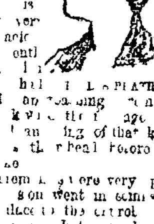

[illegible] and [illegible] light toned [illegible] to be married in [illegible] They thought it [illegible] But Queen Victoria [illegible] that [illegible] to send service there [illegible] the church and [illegible] it had to be Whip[pingham] [illegible]

[illegible] did not [illegible] Marquis of Lorne, son of a [illegible] Argyl His blood [illegible] Victoria [illegible] ancest[illegible] the family [illegible]

[illegible] Hessians [illegible] the Eng[illegible] Henry appears [illegible] lieutenant [illegible] keep his [illegible] and the English people [illegible] for many [illegible] of them [illegible] thought it [illegible] It was the eighth [illegible] English enjoy [illegible] than any other nation in

[illegible] Princes of Ger[many] [illegible] match [illegible] wouldn't [illegible] Beatrice [illegible] not very [illegible]

[illegible] PRINCESS BEATRICE

[illegible] very [illegible] went in [illegible] The [illegible] approaches to the [illegible] morning [illegible] were full of [illegible] wedding dress was [illegible] got nothing [illegible] twenty four hours

ELIZA ARCHARD

FUNERAL CORTEGE.

[illegible] AND INCIDENTS ON THE WAY [illegible] TO NEW YORK

[illegible] City Hall [illegible] of the Day [illegible] Hitch [illegible] Army and Navy [illegible] Notes.

[illegible] from [illegible] waters of the [illegible] Clouds [illegible] flash [illegible] history [illegible] Washington [illegible] marked by a flag [illegible] which the [illegible] Illustrious [illegible] the tomb [illegible] Storm King [illegible] at its foot [illegible] black [illegible] the mariner's [illegible] of the train [illegible] journey [illegible] pathway [illegible] decrepit old [illegible] a dog in his [illegible] resting on [illegible] expression of deep [illegible] formed a [illegible]

[illegible] with elec[tric] [illegible] booming [illegible] of [illegible] guns [illegible] drawn up in [illegible] presenting arms [illegible] funeral march [illegible] and words [illegible] the leaning [illegible] A violent shower [illegible] window of the [illegible] sheets [illegible] of the [illegible] however [illegible] Plymouth Rock [illegible] was seen in vivid [illegible] burst through [illegible]

[illegible] gathering of peo[ple] [illegible] Albany had as [illegible] military corps of two [illegible] shoulder along [illegible] guns were tapped [illegible] districts of the [illegible] platoons of police [illegible] with uplifted [illegible] crossed, the [illegible] funeral train [illegible] station [illegible] made in this [illegible]

[illegible] of [illegible] Grant [illegible] and several [illegible] to the [illegible] Cornell [illegible] character [illegible] which tra[illegible] at the [illegible]

[illegible] the pilot en[illegible] Engineer Nat [illegible] the Grand Central depot [illegible] funeral train [illegible] drew up [illegible] to alight [illegible] staff. They were [illegible] Hill and staff, Re[illegible] as the senate [illegible] committee of [illegible] of the press [illegible] from the funeral [illegible] the Grant Veteran Post [illegible] station to Forty [illegible] avenue, where it [illegible] funeral coach. Owing [illegible] falling shortly [illegible] funeral train, the [illegible] not so large as [illegible] police had little [illegible] passage for the [illegible] funeral car was [illegible] to Fifth av[enue] [illegible] stood [illegible] to move [illegible] that [illegible] order

[illegible] pattern of [illegible] [illegible] artillery [illegible]

[illegible] regiment N G [illegible]

[illegible] members of [illegible]

[illegible] G A R.

[illegible] Fitzpatrick and staff commanding [illegible] brigade [illegible] Clark, Seventh regiment and band [illegible] Cavanaugh, Sixty [illegible] regiment band [illegible] Eighth regiment [illegible] policemen

[illegible] of the procession was as follows [illegible] to Waverly [illegible] to Broad[way] [illegible] down Broadway to City Hall [illegible] along Fifth av[illegible] increased at [illegible] Madison Square, the side[illegible] while the stoops and [illegible] the vicinity [illegible] crowded with

[illegible] Fifth [illegible] Thirty ninth Dutch Reform church at Thir[illegible] marched with [illegible] of the different [illegible] dirges The [illegible] the proces[sion] [illegible] and in the [illegible] at the side [illegible] when the [illegible] procession reached the City Hall [illegible] were present [illegible] coach was conveyed in front of [illegible] Hall at twenty minutes past 1 Members of Grant post carried the [illegible] steps of the hall and placed it [illegible] catafalque in the lobby Mayor [illegible] Gen Hancock, the Dr Newman Dr Douglas and a number of military [illegible] at the head of the steps to re[ceive] the body

[illegible] the ceremony of conveying the [illegible] the City Hall was in progress [illegible] second regiment formed on the [illegible] of the entrance while the cavalry [illegible] at the east and west sides of the [illegible] 7 20 the iron gates leading into [illegible] of the hall were closed, and ten [illegible] later the military were dismissed, [illegible] respective quarters. The [illegible] resting a few minutes on the [illegible] was taken into a rear room of [illegible] where the undertaker and his [illegible] were engaged for some time in try[ing to] improve the appearance of the dead [illegible] face. The casket was then [illegible] to the vestibule and placed upon the [illegible] again and in a few minutes a [illegible] persons assembled and gazed upon [illegible] of the dead he[ro]

[illegible] impression seemed to prevail [illegible] embalming process has not been a [illegible] The heavy drapery in the vesti[bule] [illegible] the place a weird and impressive [illegible] notwithstanding the light from [illegible] light of [illegible] 000 candle power [illegible] was decided [illegible] limit the pub[lic] [illegible] the remains [illegible] minutes [illegible] o'clock two of the [illegible] gates were [illegible] and the immense throng that [illegible] in front of the building began [illegible] as fast as the police would allow

[illegible] stream of persons of all classes [illegible] passed the remains of the gen[eral] [illegible] the time the gates leading to the [illegible] were thrown open until 11 o'clock, [illegible] of one hundred a minute After [illegible] the crowds lessened somewhat [illegible] all the reserves of police were [illegible] their respective precincts

[illegible] guard of honor is composed of mem[bers] [illegible] Grant Post and [illegible] and mem[bers] [illegible] of the Twenty-second regiment It is [expe]cted that the remains will be visited by [illegible] throngs of spectators, from all [illegible] and an extra force of police will be [illegible] from duty in the park to preserve [order]

[A c]onference held in the mayor's office [illegible] decided to close the gates leading to [illegible] of the City Hall every morn[ing] at 1 o'clock and open again at 5

Cast in Bronze

[NEW Y]ORK, Aug 6 —[illegible] almost day [illegible] city began to fill with strangers [illegible] to witness the funeral pro[cession] [illegible] As the [illegible] passed they [illegible] thorough[fares] [illegible] increasing [illegible] The special [illegible] suburban districts were [illegible] Old men and young men, women [illegible] and [illegible] family parties [illegible] classes of society and all dressed in [illegible] were moving quietly along the [illegible] many of the corners and stop[pe]d gazing with great interest at the [illegible] drapery of mourning to be seen [illegible] the early part of the day down [illegible] church yards of [illegible] and St Paul [illegible] reverently look[illegible] graves there [illegible] movement [illegible] with the [illegible] Central depot as the objective point, [illegible] tageous positions along the line of [illegible] march were early secured and [illegible] held

[illegible] o'clock the streets in the vicinity of [illegible] began to be filled and persons who [illegible] windows all along the route of [illegible] procession began to arrive at their [illegible] make sure of their positions. [illegible] the day the heavy and elaborate [illegible] on the buildings along the route [illegible] completely rearranged so that all [illegible] of the storm had disappeared [illegible] instances the decorations were [illegible] added to, rendering the effect more [illegible] and impressive than before

[The bro]nze bust of the dead hero, modeled [illegible] plaster cast taken in April last by [illegible] Schmidt, was set up in the City [Hall] about 1 o'clock, and completed the [illegible] of decoration It stands on a black [pede]stal [illegible] a commanding and striking posi[tion] [illegible] beneath the bust are a semi sphere [illegible] with outstretched wings, grasping [illegible] a national flag On the base is [illegible] reproduction of the general's auto[graph] [illegible] attached by him on the plaster cast [illegible] when it was brought to him for [illegible] The head is remarkably life [illegible] lines brought into the sufferer's [illegible] his last illness are perfectly [illegible] on the base metal, which also [illegible] slight swelling of the throat pro[illegible] the cancer

Hitch in Arrangements.

[NEW Y]ORK, Aug 6 —There is a little [illegible] the arrangements for the Grant [fun]eral of Saturday, because of [illegible] between Gen Aspin[wall] [illegible] chief of staff, and [illegible] has charge of the military [illegible] Gen Aspinwall thinks that the [o]rganizations should form in the [illegible] above the City Hall and fall into [illegible] the [illegible] of the regular [illegible] Gen Shaler desires that the [illegible] form along Broadway be[illegible] City Hall [illegible] break [illegible] in company [illegible] of the marching signal [illegible] Broadway, above the City [illegible] break into company front taking [illegible] of march in the rear of the First [illegible]

[illegible] of opinion will probably be [illegible] when Gen Hancock arrives in [illegible] Gen McMa[hon] [illegible] has [illegible] [illegible] greatly [illegible] because [illegible] able to assign places where the [illegible] posts veterans and their visit[illegible] Thus [illegible] Fourteenth street It [illegible]

[illegible] however that the [illegible] division [illegible] will form [illegible] Second division [illegible] organizations north [illegible] [illegible] uniting militia [illegible] their left [illegible] of the length of [illegible] by the procession [illegible] Gen Hancock [illegible] would [illegible] he thought [illegible] ideas [illegible] It was [illegible] day of the parade [illegible] rather [illegible] difference [illegible] the march [illegible] route could be [illegible] seemed to make [illegible]

A Grand Act[ion]

[NEW] YORK Aug 6 —[illegible] to do honor to [illegible] Among those present [illegible] of Gen Longstreet [illegible] Loring late commander of the [illegible] of Egypt's army, Brig G[illegible] Lilly, of Gen Jackson [illegible] Sergt A M Davis [illegible] thirty fourth [illegible] infant[ry] [illegible] L Duffy, of the [illegible] Maj D [illegible] of Lee's army [illegible] of the Hampton Legion [illegible] Quincy, Wilson [illegible] John A McCall, and Han[illegible] Among the resolutions [illegible] unanimously adopted, [illegible] following

[illegible] North and south sister sections of [illegible] country side by side at this gr[ave] [illegible] great spirit of peace bespeak the [illegible] its animosities buried [illegible] united country of restor[ation] [illegible] stronger through the [illegible] our land never again to be drench[ed] [illegible] fraternal blood

Naval Arrangements

[NEW] YORK Aug 6 —[illegible] from the flagship [illegible] the naval contin[gent] [illegible] part in the [illegible] funeral ceremonies His will [illegible] United States Despatch his flagship [illegible] occasion She will anchor [illegible] followed by the Powhatan On [illegible] and Alliance When the proces[sion] [illegible] City Hall the Despatch will fire [illegible] one minute guns After the Des[patch] has fired twenty one guns, the other [illegible] in succession will fire twenty one guns.

[illegible] and other vessels participating in [illegible] are requested [illegible] naval vessels [illegible] three vessels [illegible] in close order

[illegible] naval officers will ride in the pro[cession] [illegible] this order [illegible] carriage on [illegible] Admiral [illegible] personal staff [illegible] carriage Commodore [illegible] naval officers according to rank [illegible] carriages.

Mrs. Grant Indisposed.

NEW YORK, Aug 6 —W J Arkell, who [accomp]anied the ladies of Gen Grant's [illegible] Mount McGregor, said there [illegible] truth in the report published in [illegible] paper that Mrs Grant [illegible] McGregor after the [illegible] family had left for this [illegible] taken the train [illegible] that when he left [illegible] Grant was much prostrated [illegible] mentally It is expected [illegible] will arrive at the [illegible] day, but her health is [illegible] Mr Arkell feared [illegible] to come to this [illegible]

Confederate Soldiers

[WASH]INGTON Aug 6 —At a [illegible] Confederate soldiers [illegible] New York to [illegible] $100 [illegible] appropriate [illegible] will be forwarded to the family [of the] deceased.

77,000 Viewers.

ALBANY, Aug 6 —By actual count [illegible] of persons viewing Gen Grant [illegible] the capitol were 77,000 [illegible] at least one the [illegible] just in front of the catafalq[ue] [illegible] were not counted at the entrance

Washington in a New Light

[illegible]

[illegible] Washington] died in [illegible] and in the heyday of his glory an[illegible] Time has since dealt gent[ly] [illegible] memory, and [illegible] the great [illegible] of all leaders an[d] [illegible] immaculate of all men [illegible] face is so familiar to us [illegible] written all over the map of our [illegible] We have made of his birth[day a] national feast The outlines [of his bio]graphy are known to every schoo[lboy] [in] the land Yet his true biography [is st]ill to be prepared Gen Washin[gton is] known to us, and President Washington

[illegible] George Washington is an un[known] man When at last he is set [illegible] in his habit as he lived, [illegible] of the cherry tree and more [illegible] Naught surely that is heroi[c] [illegible] omitted, but side by side [illegible] heroic will appear [illegible] that [illegible] commonplace We shall [illegible] hold the [illegible] commander replying [illegible] us celerity, [illegible] of his officer and calling the p[illegible] of his mutinous troops [illegible] [We shall a]lso hear his oaths and see him [in t]errible outburst of passion [illegible] Mr Jefferson has alluded [illegible] which Mr [illegible] has [illegible] [We sh]all see him refusing to be paid [illegible] us, yet exacting from the fam[illegible] poor mason the shilling that [illegible] We shall know him as [illegible] forbidding character, with wh[om] [illegible] man ever ventured to [illegible] and familiar terms [illegible] and honor him for being not [illegible] of generals [illegible] [illegible] common [illegible] but a man with [illegible] much common [illegible] fullness of [illegible] to be [illegible] deliverer of our country.

The Pyramid of Cheops

[illegible]

[illegible] pyramid of Cheops [illegible] of Mo[illegible] [illegible] vers [illegible] [illegible]

Orleans [illegible] to [illegible] to [illegible]

[illegible] John [illegible]

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

MARION WEEKLY STAR.

[illegible]

[illegible]

IT PAYS DOCTORS TO CURE.

Fallacy of a Common Belief Clearly Exposed—Experiments on Patients.

[Baltimore American]

Do doctors ever practice on their patients

The above question was asked of a prominent physician a few evenings since. The number of physicians of good reputation he replied who experiment on their patients is small. Indeed I do not know such a [illegible] There is a very erroneous impression among the [illegible] of persons on this point [illegible] is more common than to hear some one say [illegible] I wouldn't [illegible] going to a doctor [illegible] they get hold of you they'll [illegible] No general statement could be farther from the truth. It is the best interests of a physician to cure the one upon whom he is in attendance because every cure he effects increases the confidence reposed in him. Almost every day some new disease or some hitherto unknown manifestation of disease is developed in practice and it is not surprising therefore that even the best equipped and most experienced doctor is compelled to occasionally grope about in the materia medica before he finds the proper remedy. But the suspicion of the desire for experimenting is uppermost in the mind of the average patient that it would be difficult to [illegible] him even if it was so desired.

What kind of patients are easiest to attend to was asked.

[illegible] They will believe anything you tell them.

In a great majority of instances they display more nerve under treatment than their alleged superiors the lords of creation. They have the most profound hope of recovery. A man, on the other hand, is apt to break down. [illegible] as we say. It is a fact that more women than men physical conditions being relatively equal recover from diseases. Their endurance, pluck and patience and freedom from worriment are the chief essentials of a cure. It has been my experience that one woman who has been thoroughly cured and knows it will bring to her medical adviser ten times as many good cases as ten of the most grateful men who have been similarly rescued.

Are there many patients who neglect to pay?

That depends on the nature of the practice. Usually the rich are more prompt in settling the bills of their doctor than they are in paying the bills contracted in any other way. Perhaps it is because they are so big it makes them feel proud to pay them. But, taking the case of a physician who has a mixed practice and it is usual to lose about [illegible] per cent of the fees through bad bills. Sometimes the percentage is greatly increased, especially in times of epidemics.

What is the average income of a physician asked the reporter.

It is hard to strike an average. However I think it would be near the mark to say that the average income of a well established physician in the city is [illegible] a year. But there is hardly any profession where the fees are so variable. Since human gratitude for saving life is so great it not infrequently happens that $[illegible] is paid in single cases as fees. The average income of the country doctor is about $[illegible] per year. It usually requires five years of close attention [illegible] to establish a good practice. Young doctors find that a little experience in the hospitals [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] The fees of [illegible] I do not think the profession would [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to abbreviate in some [illegible] army of graduates [illegible] annually ground out of the colleges and it is likely that it [illegible] the standard of [illegible] [illegible] will be [illegible] up to that of the German uni[illegible] This would materially reduce the number of graduates.

Do you think that medicine will eventually be able to successfully cope with every kind of [illegible]

I am not at all certain about that. But I would not put myself on record [illegible] that such a time may come. [illegible] the art of medicine has undergone [illegible] revolutions since its establishment [illegible] rapidly wonderful [illegible] to come. While I [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

A Thoroughly Cured Woman [illegible]

[illegible]

A question of [illegible] and matrimony has been [illegible] by the [illegible] of a wealthy [illegible] [illegible] that we look [illegible] her sex and [illegible] claims Bible mean [illegible] the marriage state [illegible] into until the mental and physical development is complete [illegible] [illegible] attribute [illegible] unhappiness of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] empty laudanum bottle was found in her pocket.

NEWSPAPER AND MAGAZINE EDITING.

A Want Which Is Apparent—The Newspaper Editor's Work.

[Chicago News]

It is a little remarkable and slightly ridiculous that the magazine editor does not do any editing. He merely selects and arranges matter for publication which in great newspaper offices is in [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] this result [illegible] only too [illegible] [illegible] newspaper [illegible] of the [illegible] deserve to be called editing are radically different.

The newspaper editor armed with a [illegible] and an unflinching hand, [illegible] through a man[illegible] [illegible] with [illegible] [illegible] literary reputation [illegible] magazine editor [illegible] [illegible] also for newspapers [illegible] business enterprises which magazines are [illegible] ways there is more than one [illegible] magazine in this country run by great publishing firms as an advertisement and one or two as literary pastimes very much as other capitalists keep yachts and trotters.

There is of course a very great difference in the manner of the two sorts of editors. The newspaper editor must be brief, sometimes he must be brusque, [illegible] always polite if he is a first class editor, but his eye often wanders to the big brazen faced clock ticking somewhere in the office, by [illegible] everything is run, and when his [illegible] time is limited he is telling the [illegible] he knows the very minute when [illegible] of the presses in the subcellar of the printing office must begin.

The magazine editor, on the contrary, is disposed to be conversational. He [illegible] a whole month before him to arrange the matter for a publication about [illegible] as the Sunday edition of a great [illegible] York daily, and as many months he chooses to deliberate where the [illegible] shall go in an article on The [illegible] Shape of the Sea Cow's Tail in [illegible] Paleozoic Period or Operations for Tripoli in 1806 by Capt. Hal[illegible] and Commander [illegible] U. S. and other subjects of contemporaneous human interest.

The newspaper editor on the con[illegible] has about twenty four hours to [illegible] an article on the Spanish treaty, for example, going over the whole round of commercial treaties, the constitutional rights of house and senate in [illegible] making its effect on the tariff [illegible] status in different sections of the country, the whole thing to be compressed into three quarters of a column with the certainty that if he slips up once every one of his esteemed contemporaries will be hounding him next morning, and that he will never be able to write another line on the subject of commercial treaties without being reminded in a printed chorus, with the charming frankness of newspaper men, that he is a monumental john donkey, and this continual grind going on every day in the week and every week in the year and a thousand other things of as much importance as the Spanish treaty pressing him with literature and art demanding to be heard as much in a newspaper as in a magazine. Verily the newspaper editor is born to ink and misery. I must again repeat that this typical editor belongs to a great and powerful family.

A Market for Stale Bread.

[N. Y. [illegible]]

"Nothing is now wasted," said the Brooklyn grocer. "I used to return my stale bread to the baker who held it for a day or two selling it to poor persons in the meantime at a reduced price. He could but if no call was [illegible] he had to throw it away. In [illegible] it is dried and then ground up again and shortening being afterward [illegible] with it and then baked up into cake. But such cake could not be sold [illegible] Now the bakers have no difficulty. The Italians buy up nearly all stale bread for which they pay $[illegible] a barrel. There may be seventy five [illegible] in each. It doesn't seem to make any difference to them how old it is providing it is not moldy, and their [illegible] it in this way has been a great relief to the bakers."

Public Practical Astronomy.

[Frank Leslie's Illustrated]

A very laudable effort at teaching the general public practical astronomy is being made in Christiania. An optician [illegible] A. Olsen has erected a great refractor in the Royal park in size said to be the fifth in the world—through [illegible] the celestial bodies can be observed by the public for a small fee, and explanations are given of their nature etc. The interior of the pavilion in which it is mounted is hung with [illegible] charts and diagrams as well as [illegible] of the planets the sun and the [illegible] for the purpose of facilitating the [illegible] in view. The cost of the instrument is very nearly $10,000.

Uses of Coral.

[illegible]

Coral is used in India as an adornment for corpses preparatory to cremation. On this [illegible] on its roseate hue [illegible] deemed symbolical of the devouring flames but it is often devoted to sacred purposes both in Asia and [illegible] Among western nations it is sparingly employed as an ornament [illegible] is or ought to be plentiful. In [illegible] a new reef was discovered [illegible] several kilometres in length at Sciacca an[illegible] near Sicily. This is not exhausted [illegible] being rapidly exported to Africa, where the natives are buying it instead of the Genoese glass beads.

Washed and Ironed.

[illegible]

"Now then," said the captain of [illegible] to the janitor of the station house, "give the prisoner a bath, and when it is done let him be handcuffed and [illegible] to the jail."

"In other words," remarked the janitor, "you desire the prisoner washed, ironed and sent off."

[illegible]

And it was done.

[illegible]

[illegible] great lovers of [illegible] now [illegible] [illegible] their [illegible] claim that bean fodder takes all the pluck out of a brave man.

MRS. WILSON'S SPECULATION.

[From A. Oppenheim in Frank Leslie's Illustrated]

It was Mrs. Wilson's idea—taking boarders last summer. Mr. Wilson had [illegible] assumed a hostile [illegible] [illegible] them. It don't stand [illegible] he had remarked slow[illegible] [illegible] had been proposed [illegible] the kitchen [illegible] [illegible] to come way out here [illegible] far from Philadelphia [illegible] [illegible] nobody that's got the [illegible]

[illegible] said his daughter [illegible] [illegible] smile [illegible] [illegible] that's anybody goes out [illegible] in the summer.

[illegible] stand to reason Mr. W[illegible] [illegible] decided [illegible] supposing somebody [illegible] enough to come, that [illegible] out of em.

[illegible] know why not said Mr. [illegible] Sarah Simmon[illegible] clear out o' that survey[illegible] last summer and I'm [illegible] [illegible] Sarah Simmon [illegible] know why we shouldn't make [illegible]

[illegible] said Polly, with spirit.

Mr. Wilson had concluded [illegible] [illegible] me be you're painted [illegible] I ain't agoing to say but what [illegible] But I shouldn't keer to be [illegible] cents on it.

[illegible] ain't called on to bet nothing, [illegible] Wilson.

And the next morning a modest advertisement for boarders, carefully written out in Polly's round hand, was [illegible] Philadelphia paper.

"We're going to take boarders," said Polly that evening [illegible] the tall young fellow in [illegible] shirt and cowhide boots, who was [illegible] his hands at the pump preparatory to eating supper.

Dave Bartlett though the son of a well to do neighbor was following the [illegible] of an energetic spirit by helping Mr. Wilson on the farm that summer.

Polly admired his independence, and the superior height of his curly head, and Dave considered Polly the [illegible] he had ever taken to home from prayer meeting, [illegible] was a good cook besides.

"You don't say so?" said Dave looking [illegible]

"Well why not?" said Polly, rather sharp[illegible]

"Well," said Dave seriously, "if you was to ask me now—"

"I ain't going to," Polly retorted.

And that was the beginning of the trouble.

For if Polly had not been displeased with Dave she never would have encouraged Mr. Croffut.

Mr. Croffut was one of the four boarders whom the advertisement brought to Centerville.

He was a good looking, jolly young man who brought a paint box and an easel but who spent most of his time with Polly, in the morning hanging round the kitchen, and sitting on the front steps afternoons.

Mrs. and Miss Kirby, a widow and her pretty daughter, had followed shortly and Mr. Dawson, an elderly gentleman with a taste for botanizing had completed the quartette a week later.

Mrs. Wilson and Polly were exultant.

"What do you think now?" said the [illegible] addressing the head of the [illegible] triumphantly.

"[illegible] see the end on't," said Mr. [illegible] [illegible] I'll say.

"[illegible] to say about boarders, [illegible] [illegible] Polly demanded. [illegible] here," said Dave evening [illegible] approaching figure [illegible] [illegible] to take up with that [illegible] little city feller instead [illegible]

"[illegible] can't talk sense," said Polly, "[illegible] [illegible] you needn't [illegible] word to me."

"[illegible]," said Dave savagely.

[illegible] Polly received Mr. Croffut's [illegible] which increased daily [illegible] [illegible] and Dave could scarcely believe her eyes [illegible] came deeply devoted to pret[illegible] [illegible] If Polly's pillow was [illegible] with tears for two or three [illegible] thereafter [illegible] [illegible] observ[illegible] Croffut's steady success pain[illegible] [illegible] to meditate bitterly upon [illegible] solitude of the corn field [illegible] [illegible] knew it. Things went on with apparent smoothness.

"[illegible] don't we [illegible] something [illegible] [illegible] one morning, looking across [illegible] breakfast table at [illegible] bright [illegible] we have a picnic."

"[illegible] will," said Dave with an eagerness [illegible] increased by his unpleasantness that Mr. Croffut and Polly [illegible] springing behind the coffee-pot [illegible] said Miss Kirby [illegible] [illegible] well have it to day.

[illegible] Mrs. Wilson is agreeable," said [illegible] promptly.

[illegible] was not much love lost between [illegible] and Mr. Croffut [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to have that [illegible] Mr. Croffut too stout and [illegible] he's spoon that he could [illegible] [illegible] paint and probably [illegible] Mr. Croffut had a mark [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] good looks [illegible] [illegible] two seated buggy that [illegible] [illegible] and Miss Kirby on [illegible] Polly and Mr. Croffut on [illegible] A big lunch basket crowded [illegible] folded easel stuck [illegible] Mr. Croffut had announced [illegible] intention of taking some sketches [illegible]

"[illegible]" cried Polly as they started. "[illegible] sure to get hungry. Bill's horse [illegible] I shall take along [illegible] corn for him."

"[illegible] get it, Miss Wilson," said [illegible] Croffut eagerly and disappeared [illegible] haste.

[illegible] how the idea occurred to Dave [illegible] just what he expected to accomplish [illegible] the deed was probably [illegible] [illegible] but the vision of the [illegible] Mr. Croffut in the corn house [illegible] [illegible] an excellent lot was too [illegible] [illegible] With a muttered excuse [illegible] from the buggy [illegible] [illegible] as he neared [illegible] [illegible] forward [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] cried Mrs. Kirby gayly [illegible]

Dave did not respond. On the seat beside Polly, calm and smiling, sat Mr. Croffut.

"Get in—get in!" he commanded, and then, as Dave climbed in dazedly Mr. Wilson insisted on getting the corn [illegible] He'll bring it directly.

"Don't let's wait," cried Miss Kirby, "[illegible] can [illegible] the horse and [illegible] [illegible]"

[illegible] him a light tap with the [illegible] spoke, and the buggy [illegible] [illegible]

It was growing dark when it came [illegible] home.

It [illegible] had not been a striking [illegible] Mr. Croffut to be sure [illegible] [illegible] himself. He had [illegible] [illegible] but he had eaten [illegible] and [illegible] apple pie [illegible] [illegible] monopolized Polly [illegible] [illegible] Dave—[illegible] behavior [illegible] [illegible] He had been exceeding[illegible] [illegible] fallen into fierce [illegible] reverie his face had indicated [illegible] most [illegible] suffering and [illegible] conduct had cast a gloom over [illegible]

[illegible] driven home at frenzied speed [illegible] grown positively haggard [illegible] found the house in an uproar. [illegible] Dawson was pacing the front [illegible] looking agitated. Mrs. Kirby [illegible] on the porch [illegible] Mrs. Wilson rushed to the gate with [illegible] to her eyes.

"[illegible] don't know nothing what's become of your pa, Polly," she gasped. "[illegible] been around all the afternoon [illegible] crazy."

"We have searched everywhere," said [illegible] Dawson. "It is a strange dis[illegible]"

Nobody noticed, in the excitement [illegible] Dave had, with a rather ghastly [illegible] up from the buggy and was [illegible] towards the back yard.

[illegible] ain't but one thing could [illegible] [illegible] to him," sobbed Mrs. Wilson. "[illegible] murdered, Polly [illegible]"

[illegible] eyes had fixed upon Dave's [illegible] form—Dave with Mr. Wilson's [illegible] grasped in one strong hand.

"He was in the corn house," said the [illegible] man rather faintly. "I must [illegible] him in there myself not no[illegible] And he led Billy to the [illegible]

[illegible] a slow smile Mr. Wilson looked [illegible] at the group. Then he repeated [illegible] operation, bestowing particular attention upon the boarders. His smile broadened into a grin, and ended in a [illegible] kle.

Mr. Dawson looked alarmed.

"He has not lost his reason?" he suggested audibly.

Mr. Wilson regarded the speaker for several moments, with amusing interest, then he took off his hat and wiped his forehead.

"I'm powerful hungry," he observed.

There were occasions during the following week when Mr. Dawson's suspicion seemed likely to prove correct, for Mr. Wilson once the calmest of persons had suddenly develop a startling [illegible] of eccentricities. They appeared oddly enough, to be in some way directly connected with the boarders. The [illegible] of Mr. Croffut assisting Polly with the churning seemed to strike him as exquisitely humorous. Mr. Dawson sort[illegible] his dried grasses or Mrs. Kirby [illegible] crocheting, produced strange [illegible] of merriment even Miss Kirby [illegible] Dave['s] pleasant conversation on the parlor sofa called forth a series of [illegible] chuckles.

It was not to be supposed that such [illegible] could pass unnoticed. Nobody [illegible] in the least surprised when Mr. [illegible] having endured Mr. Wilson's [illegible] with polite patience for [illegible] signified her intention of returning to [illegible] the next day, not when Mr. Dawson, with a gentle cough observed that [illegible] had been contemplating the same [illegible] not when Mr. Croffut with a [illegible] regretful glance at Polly [illegible] [illegible] time he was back in [illegible] [illegible] the sole effect of all which, on Mr. Wilson was to send him off into an [illegible] fit of laughter.

"I don't know what to think of you," [illegible] poor Mrs. Wilson, wiping her [illegible] over the dishpan an hour later [illegible] all his doing they wouldn't [illegible] thought of going so soon if he hadn't [illegible] so crazy like. And to think [illegible] he took it—[illegible] I do believe [illegible] losing his senses."

Polly was soberly silent. Everything [illegible] a hopeless muddle.

"I'd got it all reckoned up," Mrs. [illegible] went on tearfully. "If they [illegible] three weeks longer, I'd a [illegible] enough to get a new carpet and a [illegible] and new paper for the sitting [illegible]"

There was a sound of hurried footsteps and strange [illegible] proceeding from the parlor.

"What's that?" said Mrs. Wilson. "[illegible] It don't seem as though [illegible] [illegible] more."

She wiped her hands wearily, and [illegible] followed by Polly.

The scene which the open parlor door [illegible] was altogether the most remarkable [illegible] they had ever beheld. Mr. [illegible] with heated face and with the [illegible] of a recent struggle in his [illegible] [illegible] disarranged collar [illegible] hands fastened behind him [illegible] stood glaring before the [illegible] [illegible] rather more composed [illegible] Polly's [illegible] in fact with [illegible] [illegible] affectionate smile [illegible] [illegible] position from [illegible] [illegible] against the mantel [illegible] with white lips and blazing [illegible] was pouring forth strange, [illegible] lamentations. Miss Kirby [illegible] weeping hysterically on the sofa. [illegible] citizens dress but [illegible] little badges on their coat fronts [illegible] the four strongly. Mr. Wilson [illegible] composed and Dave, with [illegible] eyes and parted lips was looking on.

"What is it?" cried Polly in a voice [illegible] with horror while Mrs. Wilson [illegible] to the door.

"They're shoplifters and thieves," [illegible] one of the officers responded [illegible] prisoners wrathfully and [illegible] Mrs. Kirby's shrill harangue [illegible] wave of his hand. "Ever hear [illegible] Shelley [illegible]—a young couple [illegible] always working [illegible] These are [illegible] an old gang. [illegible] Mr. Wilson [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] "[illegible] just the other day, Polly," said Mr. Wilson, in a voice shaken by suppressed mirth. "You don't happen to remember locking me up in that there corn house, do you, Dave?"

Dave grew somewhat redder.

"Wal," Mr. Wilson proceeded, steadying his voice with difficulty, "there [illegible] I kicked and I pounded and [illegible] hollered but nobody come. Wal [illegible] I got to feeling pretty blue and [illegible] terrible mad. I heard somebody [illegible] and I peeped through a crack [illegible] [illegible] them. He indicated the [illegible] couple. "He had some clover and [illegible] had been a picking and she had [illegible] crocheting."

The humor of this recollection over[illegible] him for a moment.

"[illegible] I was jest going to holler [illegible] when it sort o' struck me that [illegible] feller was talking rather more [illegible] and different from common. [illegible] come on till they stood there [illegible] under the butternut tree, and I [illegible] my ear to that crack. Mebbe you recollect what you was talking about, that [illegible] time," said Mr. Wilson regarding [illegible] pair mildly. "I was considerable surprised," he went on addressing the [illegible] in general, "when I begun to gather from what they said that them [illegible] two married couples in[illegible] of what they give out [illegible] be and that them two women wasn't mother and daughter to no great [illegible] tent. And when they went on to say that that last affair must a blowed over [illegible] it'd be safe enough to be getting back to business in a week or so and give [illegible] to understand, though not meaning [illegible] jest what their business was, I began [illegible] think that it was a providence [illegible] getting shut up in that there corn house [illegible] didn't take me long when I did get [illegible]," Mr. Wilson concluded, with a final chuckle, "to get word to Philadelphia [illegible] set things straight."

The faces of the prisoners as he finished were not pleasant to contemplate.

"As to the idee o' taking boarders," [illegible] Mr. Wilson regarding his wife and daughter with a jovial smile, "[illegible] don't know as I've really changed my mind on that point yit."

When Mr. Wilson's boarders departed [illegible] little later, without it is needless to [illegible] having mentioned so trifling [illegible] matter as their board bills Polly stood watching them from the back porch with Dave beside her. She was [illegible] [illegible] she was even too bewildered to feel indignant when Mr. Croffut catching sight of her dropped a flood of imaginary tears on the officer's shoulder. Dave watched her anxiously.

"You ain't sorry he's gone, Polly?" he ventured.

"Sorry! why, Dave Bartlett!" cried Polly looking shocked.

Dave hesitated, blushed, and fumbling [illegible] his vest pocket, hastily drew forth a [illegible] tle ring carefully wrapped in tissue paper.

"I was going to ask you to wear this, Polly, before—before the boarders came," he whispered. "Will you have [illegible] now?"

"I—I don't know," cried Polly, with certain recollections of Miss Kirby floating through her mind. But it glittered on her left hand when she went in, at [illegible], to see about the dinner.

Lakes of Solid Salt in Asia.

[Sir Peter Lumsden's Paper]

The valley of the lake from which the [illegible] Turkomans from Merv get their [illegible] It is some six miles square and is surrounded on all sides by a steep almost precipitous descent, impassable for [illegible] animals so far as I am aware [illegible] except by the Merv road in the north [illegible] corner. The level of the lake [illegible] made to be about 1[illegible] feet above sea level which gives it a descent of some [illegible] feet from the connecting ridge and some [illegible] feet below the general [illegible] above. The lake itself [illegible] center of the basin and the supply of salt in it is apparently unlimited. The bed of the lake is one solid mass of hard salt, perfectly level, and covered only an inch or two of water. [illegible] over it was like riding over ice or [illegible] The bottom was covered with slight sediment but when scraped away the pure white salt shone [illegible] How deep this deposit may be is impossible to say, for no one has got to the bottom of it.

To the east of the dividing ridge is the [illegible] lake from which the Saryks of [illegible] take their salt. The valley which this lake is situated is [illegible] larger of the two. The valley pro[illegible] itself some fifteen miles in length [illegible] about ten miles in breadth. The descent [illegible] is precipitous on the north and [illegible] sides only, the eastern and southern end sloping gradually up in [illegible] succession of undulation. The level of [illegible] lake is apparently lower than that of the other. I made it out to be some [illegible] feet above sea level. The salt [illegible] lake is not so smooth as in the other [illegible] did not look so pure. It is dug [illegible] flakes, or strata generally some [illegible] inches in thickness is loaded into [illegible] and carried off on camels for sale without further preparation.

The Floral Trick.

[N. Y. [illegible]]

Somebody claims to have made a discovery as to the superabundant flowers presented to actresses on an opening night. Floral shapes of every imagin[illegible] [illegible] were on show in the lobby early in the evening. As the piece progressed these were lugged down the aisles and handed to the performers. The old principle involved in the [illegible] pageant was being used in a [illegible] deceptive form. Eight or ten uniformed persons are marched round and round past a window to represent a long procession. Just so these flowers were brought into view repeatedly but with an ingenuity that hid the trick. After being accepted by the smiling actor or actress and passed behind the scenes the big horseshoe harp or what not was hastily reconstructed by skilled hands to be again presented as a cornucopia pillow or something else.

A Fish line from Seaweed.

[Exchange]

One variety of seaweed found on the European coast is known as Lucky Man's lines. The arms or fronds grow to a length of forty feet. When outer bark and gelatinous filaments are removed the frond is found to be composed of a single filament like a thread [illegible] that grows in a coil forming [illegible] the edge of the filament [illegible] to each other. This uncoiled [illegible] and when braided [illegible] four ply [illegible] makes a fishline of extraordinary strength.

LIFE AT NANTUCKET ISLAND.

A Paradise for Rest-Seekers—Boating, Bathing and Blue-Fishing.

[Boston Herald]

From the time when the Norsemen visited the place in the eleventh century [illegible] from creation's dawn down to [illegible] day, Nantucket has [illegible] gem in ocean set [illegible] change and revolution [illegible] place among the peoples [illegible] from time to time [illegible] always this isle of [illegible] [illegible] the same [illegible] features as at [illegible] thirty and forty [illegible] land this strip of [illegible] to succeed [illegible] of refuge and [illegible] now as never before [illegible] appeal conspicuously [illegible] its shores and [illegible] lying with mar[illegible]

[illegible] graph communication [illegible] and the mainland [illegible] sometimes [illegible] weeks go by [illegible] of passing to or [illegible] population is not [illegible] been by [illegible] or by discordant [illegible] climes and na[illegible] scheming ex[illegible] wrong doer finds [illegible] nor does the [illegible] of sneak, and [illegible] society gener[illegible] place where he [illegible] and where the [illegible] too straightened [illegible]

[illegible] for women and [illegible] seeking rest and [illegible] on through contact [illegible] for these ends [illegible] moving steam, yacht [illegible] on every hand, [illegible] from haven and anchorage [illegible] their companies [illegible] and always [illegible] or evening to [illegible] restful and noble [illegible] course are not [illegible] the rule of life [illegible] all that can chill [illegible] ministrations for [illegible] other one whiles [illegible] in boating bathing, [illegible] the various ocean [illegible] headland always [illegible] furnished is superla[illegible] [illegible] possible under the condition of [illegible] of land and sea.

Most men who recognize at all the element of sport in fishing are agreed that for unalloyed enjoyment, free from dangerous or annoying features, blue fishing takes [illegible] palm uniting as it does the very [illegible] and most exciting elements of fishing and boating. For this pastime, and others like it, Nantucket seems to have been especially formed and dropped down where she is, there being no stint of room or any qualification necessary to the perfection of the sport in its season. And this, indeed, may be said with regard to all kinds of fishing incidental to ocean or its shores the fresh waters of Nantucket ponds and lakelets being included in the category of advantages.

Nor do the lords of creation alone find amusement or recreation in these directions. [illegible] a certain day last week, as it happened within the knowledge of the writer of this a lady sojourner at Nantucket so [illegible] with her own hands ups and of [illegible] while on the same day another lady caught a shark nine [illegible] in length [illegible] range of sea game [illegible] pursued [illegible] includes varieties from [illegible] the [illegible] sharks swordfish, [illegible] waters of the latitude [illegible] there is very little of [illegible] catching nothing [illegible] [illegible]ket.

[illegible] has been said is [illegible] ocean sports. The [illegible] company is select [illegible] anticipation and [illegible] themselves keen en[illegible] [illegible] keeled swift, [illegible] up to a nicety for the [illegible] from the start, the [illegible] gunwale deep before [illegible] promises to keep at [illegible] by in the stern [illegible] the incidental mea[illegible] qualities with other [illegible] each crew intend [illegible] for the day if [illegible] can assist perform [illegible] down to business, the [illegible] bite, the first fish [illegible] thwarts think you [illegible] naval battle, or the [illegible] a pirate in the [illegible] ever half so satis[illegible] [illegible] evening.

The Royal [illegible] in France.

[illegible]

When he was [illegible] Pontargis he required [illegible] Pedro for his [illegible] [illegible] Mme. Le [illegible] the anecdote, [illegible] when she was in his [illegible] bloated [illegible] rly [illegible] of human sympa[illegible] [illegible] face [illegible] [illegible] to know what there [illegible] and warned the lady [illegible] time she [illegible] to dentify [illegible]

[illegible] to her with his [illegible] head and [illegible] [illegible] he was [illegible] [illegible] to get [illegible] [illegible] an [illegible] [illegible] The [illegible] Prince [illegible] [illegible] aries was [illegible] [illegible] ated [illegible] [illegible] made and, taking it up by [illegible] [illegible] it through the glass doors of a [illegible] where choice porcelain was [illegible] up. Minette [illegible] behaved like a bull in a china shop which caused almost a glee [illegible] of mirth to pass over the countenance of the prince who was tickled at the destruction that she caused.

Japanese Cosmetic.

The favorite cosmetic of the Japanese according to a report by F. Sakaye, consists chiefly of carbonate of lead and rice powder [illegible] starch which compound has been used [illegible] women—apparently without poisonous effects since early in the eighth century.

The Quinine Tree.

Homeopaths [illegible] claim a new proof of the correctness of their theories in [illegible] discovery [illegible] the quinine tree from [illegible] bark of which [illegible] [illegible] is obtained [illegible] nishes no [illegible] unless it is grown in a malarial region.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

imag serial 4004396

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

LOCAL NEWS.

FROM LAST SATURDAY'S DAILY.

—Mr. M. T. Powers of Delaware, is [illegible] in this city.

[illegible] silver perfume bottles [illegible] brandy flasks.

[illegible] is to have the [illegible] costume.

[illegible] cuff buttons are [illegible] made of sterling sil[ver].

[illegible] a former grocer in [illegible] several days in this [illegible].

[illegible] returned home last [illegible] visit in London.

[illegible] either in cluster or [illegible] to be taking the place.

[illegible] of Delaware, is [illegible] Dr. Hunter on Green [illegible].

[illegible] hammock hats are [illegible] their price being [illegible].

—[illegible] letter [illegible] this morn[ing] [illegible] matters and also [illegible].

[illegible] and her daugh[ter] [illegible] Friday on a [illegible].

[illegible] Miss [illegible] evening [illegible].

[illegible] Misses [illegible] Millie Miller [illegible] week.

[illegible] this [illegible] on her re[illegible].

—[illegible] are made of [illegible] are her [illegible] bright colors.

[illegible] declares that [illegible] the feet. Young [illegible] this in their hats.

[illegible] either very elabor[ate] [illegible] with merely a [illegible] in vogue.

[illegible] Saratoga [illegible] sunshade and worn [illegible] in the morn[ing].

—[illegible] Chronicle: H. H. Kiser, [illegible] M. Franks, is spending a [illegible] at Marion and Belleton[illegible].

—Misses Mary Kelly and Cora [illegible] Upper Sandusky visited [illegible] many Marion friends a por[tion] [illegible] the week.

The keynote of this season seems to [illegible]. It is used upon every[illegible], bonnets and fabrics of [illegible] description.

—C. B. [illegible] of the Pendleton, Ind., [illegible] is in the city accompanied [illegible] wife. Mr Caddy gave us a pleas[ant] [illegible] that was appreciated.

The funeral of the only child of Mr [illegible] living in North Marion, [illegible] residence of the parents [illegible] three o'clock.

—[illegible] is out of [illegible] the crazy quilt [illegible] amusement among [illegible] knitting silk stock[illegible].

—[illegible] among the new [illegible] that will be a favor[ite] [illegible] with ladies who [illegible] the brush. The [illegible] birds and [illegible].

[illegible] in the Laugh brace [illegible] chain from [illegible] present [illegible] of the moon [illegible] showing on one [illegible] expression and on the [illegible] one.

[illegible] Miss H. Marie [illegible] Hall last evening was a [illegible]. Attendance was [illegible] the extremely [illegible] truly enjoyable [illegible] were there and [illegible] making it the merry time [illegible].

—[illegible] employes of the Penn[illegible] examined on roads [illegible] were found defi[cient] [illegible] absolutely [illegible] twenty one defective in [illegible] thirteen out [illegible] failed to recognize cor[illegible] lights. [illegible] per cent of the [illegible] naturally color [illegible].

[illegible] willing bees [illegible] leather [illegible] The plumest [illegible] with [illegible].

[MON]DAY'S DAILY.

[illegible] Sunday [illegible] at Green [illegible].

[illegible] in the Forest [illegible].

[illegible] has resumed his position [illegible] bank.

—[illegible] Neal leaves tomorrow morn[ing] [illegible].

[illegible] Upper Sandusky [illegible] in this city.

[illegible] circulated among the [illegible] at LaRue Sunday.

[illegible] County Teachers Insti[tute] [illegible] the Central school [illegible].

[illegible] Reid of [illegible] the guests of Mrs. Sallie [illegible] street.

[illegible] twelve [illegible].

[illegible] returned to [illegible].

—Some very fine honey will be found at Jeff Osborne's, furnished by Commissioner Imbody who has as fine a lot of bees as there is in the county.

—Art Bryant was in Mansfield yesterday and vows that a cigar can't be bought in the town for love or money on Sunday. Can't buy anything whatever.

—Lantz Bender and Caroline Leffler, Henry C. [illegible] and Esther Auld, [illegible] Will W. [illegible] and Bertha H. Harshberger have been licensed to wed since our last report.

—Dr. Craig, one of Mansfield's most reputable physicians, was in the city yesterday, having been called to Marion County to visit a sick lady residing in Richland township.

—Express messengers Jones and Culare are on the sick list and unable to take out their runs. Will Randolph took out a run last night and has been permanently reinstated we are told.

—Arthur Bain and wife and two children, Abram Bain and Minnie Bain, all of Kansas City, are in town, having come East with the remains of their dead mother, Mrs. J. W. Bain.

—Joe Crow had an operation performed on his throat at Cleveland last week. As yet it is hard to tell whether it will bring back his voice or not, as his throat is very much swollen from the operation.

—Mansfield Daily Herald: Miss May [illegible] of Marion, after a three week stay in Mansfield, returned home yesterday, accompanied by her cousin, Miss Annie Patch of North Mulberry street, with whom she has been visiting.

—Will W. Yake and Miss Bertha H. Harshberger surprised their friends by being married last Sunday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. [illegible] very quietly, after which Will returned to work at the store. At present they will reside at the home of Will's parents on East Center street. They have many wishes for prosperity and happiness together.

—The remains of Mrs. John W. Bain were brought to this city this morning from Kansas City for burial at the side of her husband. Upon arrival the remains were taken to the home of Mrs. J. Davids, [illegible] sister-in-law of the deceased, where funeral services were held this forenoon, [illegible] Rev. [illegible] officiating. After the services the body was interred in [illegible] Hill Cemetery.

—A farmer from the remotely rural districts made his semi-annual call at the postoffice Saturday for his mail and of course discovered the office draped in mourning. Not knowing the nation's grief the cause thereof, and not recognizing the portrait of the nation's hero, he solemnly and quietly asked the delivery clerk, "Is—Mr.—Lapham—d-e-a-d?" For genuine ignorance this excels anything we have heard of—a heathen at home. It is appropriate to add that no newspaper visits his home.

—People sometimes foolishly wonder why heaven sends hot waves. It is neither impious nor inexcusable for one to be mystified as to why a mosquito or a book agent was created, but not to see the purpose for which the dog days were created is to be blind indeed. It is clearly manifest that they are intended to make men come out of their coats and show up in their true colors. Anybody can [illegible] dignity and receive [illegible] well [illegible] Albert and pretend to be anything he pleases, but who could ever [illegible] himself behind the meshes [illegible] full [illegible] hot [illegible] For nine months in the year [illegible] and [illegible] attention, but after the [illegible] above ninety [illegible] contempt [illegible] changes his coat. This is what [illegible] intended for.

The Trap and Trigger.

The Marion Gun Club held a practice shoot at the fair grounds last Friday and made the following excellent score with [illegible] in the lead:

[illegible]	1 1 1 0 1 1 0 1 1 1 1 0—9
[illegible]	1 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—3
[illegible]	0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1
[illegible]	1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 0 1 0 0—9
[illegible]	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—1
[illegible]	1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 0—11
[illegible]	0 1 0 1 1 1 1 1 0 0 0 0—6
[illegible]	1 1 1 1 0 0 1 1 1 1 0 0—8

Real Estate Transfers.

[illegible] W. Manly to J. A. Manly lots [illegible] LaRue, $[illegible].

N. S. [illegible] (by guardian of heirs) to [illegible] Cramer [illegible] in LaRue's 1st ad[dition], $[illegible].

[illegible] to W. H. Strawser, [illegible] Island tp. $2[illegible].

C. C. Pettit to Catharine Pettit, [illegible] acre [illegible] portion $2,[illegible].

[illegible] to J. H. Dunn 2 acres in [illegible] tp. $[illegible].

J. J. Bland to Board of Education, [illegible] $100.

Prospect.

[illegible] Thursday and Sat[urday] [illegible] were well attended and [illegible] for the benefit of [illegible] He [illegible] greatly missed. His [illegible] Livingstone died Fri[day] [illegible] buried at Richwood Sunday. [illegible] says he has quit sleeping since the weather has moderated. The Prospect [illegible] Band played [illegible] picnic party last Thurs[day].

Business in Prospect is picking up and everybody seems busy.

Prospect, O. Aug. [illegible], '85. [illegible]

The American Tract Society.

This venerable institution now in its sixtieth year made its appeal to its friends in several of our churches yesterday. We gather from the Rev. W. H. [illegible], who is its representative in Northern Ohio, the following interesting facts. During the past year a total of 5,[illegible] pages has been issued in [illegible] over 1,000,000 copies of our periodicals and [illegible],000 volumes. The balance was made up of tracts, card packages [illegible] During the year the [illegible] in the high seas, in the ports, pastors, chaplains [illegible].

[illegible] missionaries and especially by trained efficient godly and self[illegible] men who the society em[ploys] [illegible] to do this work [illegible] $[illegible],000 [illegible] to astonish [illegible].

[illegible] the Presby[terian] church yesterday [illegible].

LaRue.

[illegible] morning at [illegible] Saturday [illegible] Miss [illegible] gave a [illegible] Brother [illegible] the Presby[terian] [illegible] gives excellent per[formances] on the [illegible] Saturday evening [illegible] very interesting [illegible] the show and his life, at Dr. [illegible] House. [illegible] Aug. 3, [illegible].

A SUBSCRIBER.

[TUES]DAY'S DAILY.

—[illegible] is at Mt. Cory setting [illegible] machinery.

—[illegible] Weed [illegible] the Huber [illegible] today to set up a [illegible].

—[illegible] has returned from [illegible] and is again [illegible].

—[illegible] in the [illegible] connected [illegible].

—[illegible] returned yesterday from [illegible] he had accom[panied] [illegible] wife and sister.

—[illegible] has accepted a position [illegible] is now intently [illegible].

—[illegible] is still [illegible] towns. We will [illegible].

—[illegible] Mrs. Emma [illegible] street.

—[illegible] and [illegible] Chicago.

—[illegible] Chas. and [illegible] of D. S. Jones on [illegible].

—[illegible] of Mrs. Smith formerly [illegible] brought [illegible] interred at [illegible].

—[illegible] Felt [illegible] returned to [illegible] on Friday.

—[illegible] will be [illegible] the [illegible].

—J. [illegible] today [illegible] with [illegible].

[illegible] of his enterprise.

—[illegible] Bug[illegible] accompanied by her daughter, [illegible] Cleveland, O., guest of her niece, Mrs. [illegible].

[illegible] and wife leave [illegible] for St. [illegible] where [illegible] spend the next three weeks [illegible] Stevens [illegible] early home. [illegible] his father still re[illegible] will be no preaching [illegible] Presbyterian church during [illegible].

[illegible] subscri[ption] [illegible] members and [illegible] of the Presbyterian Church for [illegible] purpose of using money to paint [illegible] of the building to [illegible] between the vesti[bule] and [illegible] to seat what [illegible] the vestibule [illegible] procure a new [illegible] addition to the [illegible].

[Stren]gth of a Machine.

[illegible] RAILROADER.

MARION COUNTY REPUBLICANS

[Meet] in Convention and Nominate an Excellent Ticket.

[The] Marion County Republican Con[vention] met in City Hall last Saturday [and] held one of the largest meetings [illegible] ever had in [the] county. [illegible] convention was called to order [illegible] and [illegible] Gerber as temporary Chairman and Maj. [illegible] Titus [illegible] Secretary. [illegible] on Permanent Organization [illegible] one from each voting pre[cinct] and the Chair selected F. R. Shinn, J. Lawrence, S. R. Dumble, Clark [illegible] and John McElvy as Committee [on] Credentials and [illegible] Hane, S. N. [illegible] Apt, R. J. Moiser and J. H. [illegible] Committee on Resolutions. [Th]e convention adjourned until [illegible].

[AFTERNOON SESSION].

[T]he convention was called to order [illegible] and the report of the Commit[tee] [on] Permanent Organization and Order of Business read and [adopted] as follows:

[T]he Committee on Permanent Organ[ization] recommend [illegible] Gerber [as Chairman], Maj. S. N. [illegible] Secretary, [illegible] M. Ault Ass't Secretary [of the] Convention.

[illegible] recommend that the Central [Committ]ee be appointed by the delegates [from each] precinct throughout the county. [That] the Rules governing this Con[vention] be the same as all party rules governing [illegible] Conventions. [illegible] allowed to [illegible] subject [illegible] consent of C[onvention] and no [illegible] be more than [illegible] minutes. [illegible] That this Convention proceed [to nomin]ate [candidates] for County [illegible] the following [illegible] Repr[esentative], Treasurer, [illegible] Sheriff, [Commiss]ioner, Infirmary Director and [illegible].

[illegible] to the National Con[vention] [illegible] each vote [illegible] to be [illegible] Delegates [illegible] from each [illegible] to be [illegible] candidates [illegible] by the [illegible].

[illegible] Chairman
[illegible] Secy.

[The f]ollowing report [of the C]ommittee on [Credenti]als was adopted by the Conven[tion]:

MR. CHAIRMAN AND GENTLEMEN OF THE [CONVEN]TION:—Your Committee beg [to sub]mit report as follows:

[We fin]d that all Townships, Precincts [and W]ards represented, there being no [contes]ts.

[Where] Townships, Precincts [or W]ards are not fully represented [the] delegates present will cast the vote [of th]e Township, Precinct or Ward.

F. R. SHINN, N. J. LAWRENCE, JOHN McELVY, CLARK LEFFEY, S. R. DUMBLE	Committee on Credentials

[Th]e Committee on Resolutions report [t]he following:

[illegible] That we hereby most heartily [illegible] and affirm the principles enunciated in the [illegible] of the republican State convention at [illegible] that we fully en[dorse] [illegible] ticket then nominated [illegible] of Marion [illegible] ticket and [illegible] will [illegible] work for [illegible].

[illegible] citizens [illegible] soldier [illegible] after [illegible] fully exem[illegible] [illegible].

[illegible] illustri[ous] [illegible] are largely [illegible] in peace [illegible] and in the [illegible] countrymen [illegible] will be [illegible] the latest [illegible] Washington, we rec[ognize] [illegible] father of [illegible] in Abraham [illegible] and in [illegible] S. Grant the [illegible] country.

[The n]omination of candidates was [in ord]er. A [illegible] was offered [illegible] to some [illegible] designate [illegible] the Central [illegible] but the same was lost and [the con]vention proceeded to nominate [illegible].

FOR [illegible].

[illegible] were [illegible] and Ben Wad[illegible] nominated by acclamation.

[illegible].

[illegible] were [illegible] and A. [illegible] selected [illegible] candidate [illegible] ballot.

[illegible].

[illegible] by acclamat[ion].

FOR SHERIFF.

[illegible] chosen [illegible].

[illegible] but [illegible] the fifth [illegible].

[illegible] by accl[amation].

[illegible] upon [illegible] to se[illegible] convention [illegible] Aug [illegible] precinct and [at] large.

[DELEG]ATES	[ALTE]RNATES
[illegible]	J. B. Cu[illegible]ton
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	J. J. Apt
[illegible]	H. H. [illegible]frey
[illegible]	C. W. V[illegible]lters
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	S. B. [illegible]lower
[illegible]	[illegible] A. [illegible]mpson
W. W[illegible]	S. A. C[illegible]ffy
[illegible]	C. D[illegible]
[illegible]	C. H. [illegible]ettyman
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	J[illegible] Klin[illegible]fler
[illegible]	C. H. B[illegible]
[illegible]	H. Klin[illegible]
[illegible]	V. F. [illegible]
[illegible]	M. O. H[illegible]
W. [illegible]crans	M. McKinstry
J. M[illegible]	J. Monn[illegible]
[illegible]	H. Anderson

[DELEG]ATES AT LARGE—D. H. Clifton, Dr. J. [illegible], Hon. J. J. Hane.

[ALTERNA]TES—[illegible] D. Harshberger, John Irey, [illegible].

[CO]UNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

[illegible] Geo. [illegible]lding
[illegible]
[illegible]
M. H. [illegible]

[The Central] Committee selected the fol[lo]wing Executive Committee:

[illegible]

Sabbath School [illegible]

[illegible]

[U]NCLAIMED MILLIONS [IN] EURO[PE].

[illegible] in Chancery [illegible] Have a Claim [illegible].

[illegible] on a certain [illegible] most prominent [illegible] is [illegible] the business [illegible] of search [illegible] and [illegible] of this country who are heirs to [illegible] in Europe. [illegible] dollars regarding [illegible] the proprietor of the place [illegible] it is a fact that the records [of the] Bank of England, the court of [chance]ry, and the Somerset house show [tha]t the enormous sum of over [illegible],000 pounds sterling, in money and prop[erty] has been left in England by [persons] who have died intestate or without [kn]own heirs. This gigantic sum [has bee]n accumulating for the past 300 [years] subject to the demand of the [illegible] issue or rightful heirs and it is [illegible] mentioned that a large percentage of [the rig]htful heirs are now settled in the [Un]ited States and Canada.

"A[re] you often successful in your [sear]ch?" asked the reporter.

"I have been in this work for twenty [illegible] years, dealing particularly with [illegible] in England, France and Holland [for the las]t six years. In this time I have [visited] Europe regularly twice a year, [and] on each trip an average of about five claims to look up [illegible] [twe]nty five I annually [illegible] about three [illegible] to my [illegible] [illegible] be [illegible] on the [illegible] successful [illegible] this will [illegible] search [illegible] and one [illegible] property [illegible] be sold in [illegible] from the date of the will [illegible] England on July [illegible] and about forty others. [illegible] much money do these fort[y] represent?"

"[illegible] not familiar with the [illegible] accounts [illegible] thousand [illegible] shall [illegible] take over [illegible] millions of dollars [illegible] than would pay [illegible] The claimant [illegible] of [illegible] in England [illegible] from all parts [illegible] but particularly [illegible] mo[illegible] trips. When I [illegible] only four or [illegible] if I do not find the man [illegible] up the search. [illegible] are all open [illegible] If I find [illegible] is to get a [illegible] also there to [illegible] Put [illegible] do, why [illegible] any [illegible] to [illegible] over there [illegible]. I have [illegible] my people [illegible] [illegible] that they [illegible] England [illegible] of the [illegible] use of the money [illegible] per cent. [illegible] When [illegible] is found [illegible] gets not only the [illegible] him, but if the government [illegible] he gets 3 per cent additional."

GHASTLY DISCOVERY.

Remains of a Man and Boy Found in a Mi[ne].

[illegible] CARMEL, Pa. July [illegible].—Great ex[citement] exists here over the discovery of [the] remains of a man and boy [illegible] of an [illegible] colliery a mile east of [illegible] both are beyond recognition [illegible] of the [illegible] burned to a crisp [illegible] skull [illegible] in the sun [illegible] terribly disfigured. Near by the ro[illegible] were found a kettle drum and cym[bal] which leads to the supposition that [they] were members of one of the band[s] [that vi]sited this place recently. Foul play is [suspec]ted and the coroner will investigate.

Brightness of the Sun.

[illegible] in one of our electric lights.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®
NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

NEARING THE END

A Very Touching and Eloquent Sermon on the Mount.

THE ADIEU TO THE DEAD

PORTRAYAL OF THE LATE WARRIOR IN FAMILY RELATIONS

Down from the Famous Summit Into the Beautiful Valley the Funeral Procession Moves to Albany—The Family Obsequies — Lying in State.

MT MCGREGOR, N Y, Aug 4—Thirteen sunrise guns were fired to mark the [illegible] general's last day on the mountain. The weather was thick and foggy and the misty atmosphere dampened everything with which it came in contact. The rain of the early night had ceased long before midnight. So thick was the mist at the sunrise gun that it was impossible to discern either the cottage or its immediate surroundings from the veranda of the hotel. A brisk wind from the south soon sprang up, however and played over the sullen, ominous looking clouds that linger around the horizon and obscured the dawning of the day appointed for the removal of the remains of the illustrious dead. As the morning wore on the breeze grew in strength and the clouds that obscured the disc of the rising sun were soon pushed aside and the atmosphere was cleared of all obstructions to the view. The half hour gun boomed regularly from the appointed time—4 o'clock—and the mournful echo as it reverberated among the hills announced to the people that the time was fast approaching for the removal of the remains of the dead general forever from the cottage in which he had spent the closing days of his life. The soldiers encamped on the grounds surrounding the cottage received orders at daybreak to prepare for their departure, and in less than half an hour the white canvas tents which had become so familiar to the eye had disappeared. Soon the blast of the trumpeters broke forth on the morning air and hardly had the echoes died away when the soldiers got a glimpse of the closing scenes. The funeral car was in early readiness and the engine attached awaited at the station with steam up ready to draw it with the precious burden it was to carry down the little mountain road to Saratoga. The family, individually and collectively took their last farewell of the dead and the remains become the nation's charge. The family breakfasted at the hotel at [illegible] and left the cottage for the time being to the visitors wishing to review the remains of the dead commander.

Shortly after [illegible] the doors leading to the parlor of the cottage where the remains lay were thrown open and from that hour up to 10 o'clock the time appointed for the commencement of services, a steady throng of people passed by the casket and took a last look at the face of him whom they loved so well. The visitors were made up for the most part of the people from the surrounding country who had driven miles in vehicles of all sorts to pay tribute to the heroic dead. Shortly before 10 o'clock Gen Hancock and staff and a number of the more prominent visitors arrived. Among them were Gen Sherman, Senators Evarts and Miller, Mr Jos W Drexel and his daughter, the latter dressed in deep mourning.

The funeral services at the cottage were begun at exactly 10 o'clock, at which hour fully 1,500 people were scattered around among the trees of the grove in front of the house and packed closely in front of the piazza of the cottage. The service opened with reading of Psalm 90. This was followed by a solemn and impressive prayer by Bishop Harris and the singing of the hymn, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," by the entire assemblage. At the conclusion of the singing of the hymn Dr Newman stepped solemnly to the front of the piazza and began delivering his sermon. The family during its delivery remained sitting about the casket which remained in the parlor.

Well done thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord. Matthew [illegible]

Such [illegible] is the eulogy that [illegible] human goodness [illegible] among the sons [illegible] distinctions between [illegible] and peasant, millionaire and pauper, commanding general and private soldier [illegible] but as the last in the balance. In his estimation of personal worth he regards not the person of any man. He looks upon the heart. In the intensity of this divine light let us recall the character of the illustrious man whose death a nation so tenderly mourns. And what were the elements of that character? His was the genius of common sense enabling him to contemplate all things in their true relations. You are calling him the great[est] of soldiers, and you do well. But do not degrade him to the level of those famous [illegible] who fought for empire and for glory.

In his [illegible] speech in 1877 he said: "Although a soldier by education and profession I have never felt any sort of fondness for war and I have never advocated it except as a means of peace." Such is the character of the true conqueror. Only such lives in the grateful recollections of mankind. And where in all the annals of our [illegible] life shall we find another save the [illegible] of Mount Vernon who was so truly a typical American. What humility amid [illegible] what meekness amid provocation, what fidelity amid temptation, what [illegible] amid adversity, what sincerity [illegible] deception, what faith, hope and [illegible] and suffering. His integrity was never questioned. His honesty was always [illegible] private life and public career were at once reputable to himself and honorable to his country.

Do you remember that these are plain [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] when he was gone.

"And how tender was his care. To his [illegible] said:

"I hope mother will bear up bravely."

To quiet her anxiety he wrote: "Do as I do; take it quietly. I give myself not the [illegible] concern. If I knew the end was to be [illegible] I would try just as hard to [illegible] [illegible]. Would she keep holy [illegible] through this long night? He wrote [illegible]

"Go to sleep and feel happy, that is what I am to do and I am going to try for [illegible] happy when out of pain. Consider how happy you ought to be. Good night."

And such was the tenderness of his love [illegible] solicitude for her and hers he surprised [illegible] by a letter found after his death. He [had] written it secretly and carried the sacred [illegible] day after day, knowing that she would find it at last.

"Look after our dear children and direct them in the paths of rectitude. It would [distress] me far more to think that one of them would depart from an honorable upright and virtuous life than it would to know that they were prostrated on a bed of sickness from which they were never to arise. They have never given us any cause for alarm on their account and I earnestly pray they never will. With these few [injunctions] and the knowledge I have of your love and affection and the dutiful affection of all our children I bid you a final farewell until we meet in another, and I trust, a better world. You will find this on my person after my demise.'

"July 9 1885."

"Doing nothing for show yet he made public recognition of God by his faithful and conscientious attendance upon divine worship. He was not a bigot. While he esteemed religion as the safeguard of a free people he accorded to all the largest freedom of faith and worship. He claimed that public education should be non sectarian but not non religious.

"His Des Moines public speech on education was not against the Roman Catholic church, but against ignorance and superstition. The order issued during the war, expelling certain Jewish traders from a given military district did not originate with him, it came from higher authority and was not against the religion of the Jews. His was the beatitude 'Blessed is he that considereth the poor.' Strangers might regard him indifferent to the needy yet the poor will rise up and call him blessed.

Many were the pensioners of his kindly bounty. In private unseen life he bore many of the fruits of the spirit. He loved his enemies not as he loved his friends but he loved them as enemies by doing them good as he had opportunity. On one of those delusive April days when hope revived in all our hearts I said to him: "You are a man of Providence. God made you the instrument to save our nation and He may have a great spiritual mission to accomplish by you and may raise you up." With a mind clear and a voice distinct he replied:

"I do not wish to proclaim it, but should God spare my life it is my intention and resolve to throw all my influence by my example in that direction."

"He is gone but shall death defeat a purpose so beneficent? Is he not mightier in his death than in his life? What home has not felt the sympathetic cord touched by the invisible hand of his terrible but patient suffering. How the embers of sectional strife have died on the hearthstone of the nation! How political animosities have skulked away in shame from the peaceful spirits of his last moments! Oh who would not even dare to die to do so much for mankind! And this was his consolation. And where in all the annals of the church shall [we] find a dying hour so full of living resol[ve]. In the early light of April 1 when all thought the end was come the sufferer revived. Heaven added months to a life so dear to us all. When he had recovered sufficiently I asked him: "What was the supreme thought on your mind when eternity seemed so near?

"The comfort of the consciousness that I had tried to live a good and honorable life" was the response, which revealed the hidden life of his soul. And this was his last night.

The services concluded by singing of the hymn Nearer My God to Thee, and the pronouncing of the benediction. The people evinced a desire to [illegible] the cottage and view the remains but the nearness of the hour for the start of the funeral train impelled the officials to refuse admission. At 11:30 the members of the U S Grant [Post] No 327 of Brooklyn drew up in front of the cottage and deputations soon started to remove the remains [illegible] and soon reappeared bearing the casket.

The march to the depot was then commenced. The military were drawn up on either side and as the members of the post bearing the remains passed through the soldiers saluted while the people uncovered and bowed their heads in mournful silence. Mrs Grant and the rest of the ladies of the family have decided to remain at the hotel until 4 o'clock when they will leave for Saratoga and thence go direct to New York. The funeral train which consisted of seven cars, waited at the depot. Next to the engine came the funeral car. The transfer of the remains from the cottage to the train was without incident and at exactly 12:58 o'clock the train started out from the depot.

Details.

SARATOGA, N Y, Aug 4—The funeral train with the remains of Gen Grant arrived at Saratoga at 1:41 having left Mt McGregor at 1 p m. It was received with a salute of artillery by United States troops posted at the entrance to the depot. The transfer was made to the Albany train in the depot itself to the [line] of the Delaware & Hudson running through it.

The journey from Mount McGregor here was without interest. At points along the road there had gathered groups of men, women and children who came to witness the passage of the funeral train. Many of these displayed mourning badges, and while the train was passing them [took] off their hats and stood bareheaded until it passed [illegible].

As the train moved off from the depot at Mount McGregor the Fourth artillery [from] Fort Warren, Capt Sterr commanding, began firing minute guns and [continued] [until] the train was under way. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

The surgeons report that it was not more

ally [illegible] The left side of his face [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] blackened [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Delaware & Hudson [illegible] [illegible] of nine cars. Next to the [engine] [was the] funeral car. Wood [illegible] [illegible] the remains of the [illegible]. During the transferring of the remains from the car to the Mount M[cGregor] train [the] band played a dirge. The casket was transferred by the guard of honor.

At Albany

ALBANY, N Y, Aug 4—The funeral train moved slowly through Saratoga at 2 [illegible] assembled. The bells tolled [illegible] [illegible] sad interest was [illegible] [illegible] nearly every face. An assemblage of about 5,000 had gathered around the United States hotel and every window [of] the vast caravansary opening toward the railway had its full complement of occupants. The train ran slowly until the outskirts were reached and then increased its speed to fifteen miles an hour.

At Ballston another assemblage stood uncovered as the train dashed swiftly by. The long platform of Round Lake station was occupied by at least two thousand people. At Mechanicsville and other small places crowds of several hundred were in holiday attire at the depots. At West Troy salutes were fired. Precisely at 3:45, the scheduled time, the train came to a halt in Albany, opposite [Spencer] street. The funeral car, heavily draped, drawn by six black horses in funeral trappings was in waiting and after a short delay the casket was transferred to it.

At 3:56 the order was given to start. The procession was made up as follows: headed by platoons of police to clear the street; Maj Gen W S Hancock, U S A commanding and staff mounted, Maj Gen [illegible] J Farnsworth chief marshal and staff mounted, Maj Gen Joseph B Carr, commanding, and staff mounted. A mixed and uniformed military organizations comprising the escort.

Funeral car flanked by United States troops and a delegation of U S Grant post.

Mourners in carriages.

Governor David B Hill and staff.

The mayor or common council and city officials in carriages.

SECOND DIVISION—Brig Gen. James M Warner commanding and staff.

The military order Loyal Legion.

Grand Army of the Republic.

Veterans of the late war and Sons of Veterans.

THIRD DIVISION—Maj Walters W B [illegible] commanding and staff.

Civic societies as placed by the Albany [illegible].

The column moved through North Pearl street to State street, to Eagle, to Washington avenue to Knox, to State, to the Capitol, where it halted and formed a line on the south side of State street, right resting on Hawk street. A score of bands were scattered throughout the procession and played solemn funeral marches. Enormous crowds of people lined every street of the line of march. The police and [illegible] the efforts of the police to preserve a sufficient room for the pageant. The crowds in Albany were far vaster than those present at the funerals of either Lincoln or Garfield. It is supposed that no less than [twenty] five thousand strangers visited the city. The military escort of one hundred [illegible] [illegible] carrying of the casket [illegible] [illegible] on both sides [illegible] under the [illegible] [illegible] arms as the casket was carried [illegible].

Gen Sherman, Vice Admiral Rowan, [illegible] and the Grant [illegible] Gov[er]nor Hill at 6 o'clock. Gen Sherman [took] the evening train for New York.

The casket was borne into the capitol at 5:30. [illegible] [illegible] the main corridor [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the National colors under the truly grand and imposing [illegible], awaited its sacred burden. The undertakers were in waiting and [illegible] the purple and glass lids. It was found that the jarring [illegible] [illegible] Mount McGregor [illegible] in a certain degree disturbed the remains. This was quickly rectified. Embalmer Sullivan then applied a white wash to the face and [illegible] [illegible], supposedly to improve it, but quite the contrary effect was produced. It gave the face the appearance of being [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] with flour and a new ghastliness [illegible].

[illegible] at 6 o'clock the casket was placed [to] rest in the corridor. The doors were [opened] and the members of the state senate [illegible] two abreast, divided at the foot of the casket and passed out of the capitol by the private entrance. The members of the assembly followed and then came the public four abreast, white, black, old [and] young, rich, poor, the lame and stalwart [illegible] ugliness in short, a heterogeneous mass of humanity that is only seen [together] when such extraordinary event is happening. Eight thousand passed during the [first] hour and for two hours this was [illegible] [illegible] a slight decrease was perceptible. [illegible] thousand people passed [illegible] [illegible] 9:30 p m. [illegible] [illegible] two [illegible] [illegible] the capitol [illegible] private entrance [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the ghastliness [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] turning off the ele[ctric]

[illegible] lights in the catafalque. It is thought [illegible] globes would have been more proper. At 2 a m a few stragglers are [illegible] the casket.

Mrs Grant.

MOUNT McGREGOR, N Y, Aug 4—Mrs [Grant], Mrs Sartoris and the other female members of the household left on the 4 p m [train] [illegible] stating that they [illegible] through to New York. It [illegible] however, that they took this course [illegible] to conceal the fact that they would stop at Albany, thus avoiding publicity.

The Family in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug 4—Rooms have been [engaged] at the Fifth Avenue hotel for Mrs [Grant] and other members of the family. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] at the hotel [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] because they are [illegible] [illegible] of the funeral procession. The party [is] expected to arrive at the hotel at 7 [illegible]

Another Berner Case

ZANESVILLE, O, Aug 5—The jury in the [case] [illegible] against Andy Huffman charged with the murder of John [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] 4,000 people [illegible] [illegible] the verdict of [illegible] [illegible]. Huffman was immediately [illegible] of the court room by the sheriff [illegible] [illegible] jail. A howling mob, composed of the best citizens of the county, feeling indignant at the verdict surrounded the court house and only by persuasion of the more level headed portion of the crowd was the jail saved from being torn down. Sheriff Hu[illegible] sought his opportunity to remove Huffman from the jail and having a buggy [at] hand drove him swiftly out of the city. The feeling of the people is intense and if Huffman is caught he will probably be lynched. Had Huffman been convicted of manslaughter the wrath of the community would have been somewhat appeased, but to [see] him go [free] on the verdict of the jury, composed of the most ignorant men in the county, when he himself confessed the killing [of] Callahan, seems unbearable. Huffman's three sons stood around the court house for quite a while after their father was released and by their words of rejoicing over the verdict came very near causing a riot. One of the attorneys for the defense finally persuaded them to get off the streets, which they did, and quiet was restored. No such excitement was ever before created in the city, and curses deep and full of meaning are on the lips of every law abiding citizen who places any value on human life.

THE FAMILY GROUPED IN PRAYER AND SUPPLICATION

Mrs. Grant Brings the Cherished [illegible] and Bows in the Presence of the Calm Peaceful Face—Scenes in and Around the Silent Cottage

MT McGREGOR, Aug 3—Hundreds of visitors came up on the little mountain [illegible] [illegible] of the nearness of the [illegible] to rest on all alike [illegible] that Dr Newman be [illegible] to the cottage. When he came Mrs Grant reminded the pastor that [illegible] would be here only a [illegible] [illegible] and asked him to [illegible] with the family while yet [illegible] was there. Thus it was that [illegible] Mrs Grant and her daughter [illegible] with their wives, were [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] family surrounding [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] general. Mrs Grant [illegible] a table brought her dearest [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] opened a [illegible] to Dr Newman. He [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] at the [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] arrive at 10:40 [illegible] [illegible] considerably [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] any the family and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. The preservation of the body [illegible] the final obsequies is assured. Assistant Secretary of the Interior [illegible] [illegible], called. About four hundred visitors from Saratoga visited the [illegible] during the afternoon. [illegible] sought entrance to the cottage [illegible] satisfied to stare at it. A great [many] visited the encampment and inspected [the] old fashioned pieces of artillery, which were sighted on the spot in the valley of the [illegible] where Gen Burgoyne surrendered. Informal visits of condolence were paid [to] the family by ex Postmaster Gen[eral] [illegible] and wife and ex assistant secretary of the interior, Graham. The embalmers have been busily engaged with the body during the entire evening. They [illegible] coloring if necessary in order [to] have the face present a good appearance. Dr Douglass says the countenance is better than ever. He believes the glass lid causes the dark reflection on the features. He states that the embalming could not have been improved.

In accordance with the desires of Col Grant the body of Gen Grant will lie in state at this place from 12 to 6 o'clock. Vast crowds are expected from Saratoga.

Locomotive Engineers.

ALBANY, N Y, Aug [illegible]—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers held [a] meeting in the Leland opera house. Grand C[hief] [illegible] M Arthur of Cleveland was present [illegible] [illegible] address [illegible] [illegible] sympathy and respect were adopted [illegible] to be sent to Mrs Grant and family. A social reunion [illegible]

ANOTHER OUTRAGE

The Child and Usual Burly Negro in the Case

NORRISTOWN, Pa, July [illegible]—Elmira [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

Muscle Reading by Sight

[illegible]

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] pupils of the grammar schools of the city.

THE TEACHERS' MEETING.

Marion County Teachers Holding Their Annual Institute at Central School Hall.

The fourth annual meeting of the [Marion] county teachers' institute [opened] [at] Central School Building Hall Monday morning. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] largely attended [illegible] [illegible] success [illegible] shows [illegible] [illegible] attendance [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] probably prove [the] largest and most successful ever held [in] the county. Already over one [hundred] [illegible] pedagogues have registered [and] they compose an intelligent looking body.

The professors in charge are Prof [illegible] F Hufford of Middletown, O; [Prof] Hunter, of Bloomington, Ind, and [Prof] W Butler, of Defiance, O. [Prof] W A Sage presides. Below is the report in brief of the proceedings up to noon today.

MONDAY FORENOON

[Institute] was called to order at 9 o'clock Monday morning with about sixty present, President Sage occupying the chair.

After singing and prayer by Prof Butler, he took up the subject of Primary Reading. Intermission was followed [by] Prof Hufford's instructions in Analytical Arithmetic. As Prof Hunter had not yet arrived, Prof Butler occupied the time by addressing the teachers on "Theory and Practice." He concluded upon Prof Hunter's arrival, when the latter took up "History" and discussed the subject for the remainder of the session.

MONDAY AFTERNOON

Institute with increased attendance called to order by Pres't Sager. After singing Prof Hunter discussed "Primary Arithmetic," Prof Butler following him [on] "Reading and Vowel Sounds." Prof Hufford spoke regarding "Diacritical Marks and Orthography." After intermission Prof Butler then took up the subject of "Nouns and Pronouns," Prof Hunter "Theory and Practice." Prof Hufford closed the session with talk on "Arithmetic," the session closing at five o'clock.

TUESDAY FORENOON

Institute was called to order at nine o'clock. Scriptural reading and prayer was given by Prof Hunter, followed by singing. Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved. Prof Hufford again took up the subject of "Analytical Arithmetic." After him followed Prof Hunter on "F[illegible] Work." Instruction on "Analysis" was then recommended to the Institute. Then Prof Butler proceeded with instruction on "Primary Reading." Intermission followed after which a very interesting address of instructions was given by Prof Hunter on U S History, dwelling [on] explorations. A short and instructive talk on "Penmanship" by Prof Sp[illegible] [illegible] followed. Prof Hufford then instructed the teachers How to [illegible] [the] attendance of the pupil. The session [closed] with an interesting discussion on "Teachers' Qualifications," by Prof Butler.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Order called. Song entitled "C[illegible]" was sung. The query box was next introduced, which was accepted [with] the best wishes from every face. [Intermission] [illegible] [illegible] took up the subjects Subtraction, Multiplication, Division, and with no less interest [illegible] until he held the [illegible] [illegible] until Prof Butler was called, who proceeded with the subject, "How to Study Reading." After a thorough drill on various sounds of [illegible] he took up [the] primary exercises found in the S[illegible] Reader, and held a class exercise which was highly appreciated by all. Prof Hufford then advanced the subject, "Drill on Music," which was a class exercise similar to a school exercise in common schools. This was followed by correction of words given the day before. A recess was given after which Miss Lucia May Wiant delivered two recitations entitled "Charcoal Man" and "A Georgia Sermon," which received the hearty applause of all present. We permit us to give the attention Miss May has given the subject of Expression has given her qualifications in this respect second to none. Prof Butler then followed with the subject "Adjectives, Adverbs and Prepositions," which was conducted in class exercise with great enthusiasm. Prof Hunter then talked about "Special Cases in the School Room," which was full of anecdotes of the school room with which every teacher was familiar and [illegible] bore on the subject under discussion. After this came Prof Hufford who formed the workers in a class [and] put them at the board on test work. Prof Hufford has gone to the trouble [of] [obtaining] one thousand test problems printed for the exclusive use of the Institute and we hope the interest may [illegible] [illegible] and all may be solved by Friday. The meeting adjourned with 160 [regular] teachers present, and several [more] [re]gistered.

TUESDAY EVENING

Order called at 8:15 p m [illegible] [illegible] after which Prof Hunter [of] Bloomington, Ind, was introduced [illegible] [illegible] subject [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

WEDNESDAY FORENOON

Institute opened at 9 [illegible] with [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Prof Butler, Prof H[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] [illegible] took up the subject of "Difficulties

[illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] President [illegible] Hufford gave a few [illegible] to each [illegible] with unusual [illegible]. He directed [illegible] friends [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Prof Moore gave a recitation [illegible] Mr [illegible] [illegible] A dol[illegible] [illegible] appreciated an[d] [illegible] [illegible] 200 [illegible] present pronounce [illegible] and wish for [illegible] future.

[WEDNESDAY] MORNING

Order called [illegible] a m. After [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] followed [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] so sick [illegible] afternoon [illegible] to the [illegible] [illegible] the Institute [illegible]

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the people [illegible] could [illegible] [illegible] air with [illegible] elevator [illegible] break [illegible] not?

History is an interesting [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. It is [illegible] [illegible] teachers [illegible] examination.

Some of the old knotty problems [came] up again after having been answered [by] instructors for several years past [illegible] impossible for [illegible] teachers to [find] the solutions, and [illegible] new [illegible] for them.

There [illegible] number of fine young ladies attending that [illegible] might wish [illegible] [illegible]. Some of these look [illegible] something [illegible] [illegible] dressed [illegible] [illegible]," how [illegible]

Prof Hufford [illegible] on us [illegible] [illegible] yesterday [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] arithmetic [illegible] but is now [illegible]

[illegible]

(Continued on page 7)

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE® NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

LOCAL NEWS.

A. M. Bain has returned to Kansas C...

—Mrs. Dr. Harding visited at West ...n this week.

Mrs. H. B. Whitby visited her par... in Mt Gilead last week.

—H. M. Barnhart was in Dayton at...ing to business matters.

—Mrs. Ed Dodge and children were ... from Caledonia Thursday.

—W. A. Bain, wife and children are ...ing friends at Springfield for a few days.

—Mrs. J. E. Davids and Minnie R. ... are visiting friends at Bucyrus for a few days.

—Mrs. Christenia Kraner was ap...ted executrix of the will of W. E. ...er Tuesday.

—Joshua Copeland has been appointed ...ator of the will of the late Sarah ...erson, of LaRue.

—Master Wallace Whitmarsh is quite ... with a serious inflammation of the ...es, but is improving.

—Bro. Henness, of the Caledonia Ar...s, was in the city Thursday and ...to us a fraternal call.

—Prof. A. G. Crouse arrived in this city from Waseon, Thursday, and is preparing to move to Marion.

—William Black, of Corsica, formerly of Caledonia, was in the city Thursday and called on old acquaintances.

—About twenty-five Marionites were at Kenton Tuesday attending the en...ampment of the soldiers at that place.

—All are invited to attend the preach... service of the Baptists at 3 o'clock, ... Aug. 9, in the Evangelical church.

—Claude Walters, of this city, will ... Saturday night for Chautauqua, N. Y. to join Messrs. Diegle and McIntire.

—The fight for the nominations on the ...cratic ticket grows more interesting ...e time for the convention draws ...

—A large number of our farmers are ...shing their wheat from the shock, in preference to stacking or moving it ...

—The Green Camp pike is receiving a ... of gravel west from Rayl's cros... The east will be crushed rock. W...k has begun.

—J. C. Johnston left to-day for Hol... Mich., where he will spend two or ... weeks visiting his brother and en...joying the lake breezes.

—A young lady rebukingly asks: "Which is the worse, to lace tight, or to ...ght?" Really we cannot answer the question; we never laced.

—Hon. Duncan Dow, of Bellefontaine, ... in the city Tuesday fixing up his ...es for the State Senatorial Conven...tion which will meet at Bellefontaine ... 13.

—A child of Wm. A. Hariet died Thurs... morning in Loveland, of that much-...ded disease, cholera-infantum. A little precaution will save many of our little folks if taken in time.

Chas. Crouse tried cracking glass balls the other day and missed through-out twelve innings. When he went ... Mrs. Crouse suggested that he let ... throw up the house and have him ... to hit that. The members of the Gun Club tell this story and swear to it.

—The Mansfield firemen have arranged ... firemen's and a band tournament, to be held September 2d and 3d, at which ... prizes aggregating $800 will be dis...tributed. First prize of $100 will be awarded to hose companies, hooks and ... ladder companies, steamers and bands.

—A physician says that in order to en...joy the full flavor of butter, the bread should be put in the mouth with the lu...bricated surface downward. In these ... of oleomargarine it would be well ...se the "staff" in the good old-fash...ioned way, right side up with care, and ...less flavor the better.

—The Mechanical Department of the ... and A. gave an excursion to Como Lake, out near Huntington, Ind., Tues...day. All members of the of that par...ticular department were furnished trans...portation. The L. E. and W. boys here ... in receipt of invitations and trans...portation, but no one took advantage of it.

—W. H. McIntire, son of Rev. Mc Intire of Galveston Texas, who has been visiting Geo. Diegle's family the past few weeks, left Tuesday night with R. J. ...le for Lake Chautaugua, where they ... be met by Mr. McIntire's folks, and ...ain at the Lake for some time, and ... there will take their departure for ... Lone Star State.

A gentleman came in from the coun... Thursday and reported Noble Taver... to the S. P. C. A. charging him with ...y whipping an orphan boy that the ...on is caring for. From what we ... the boy was assigned to gathering ...ves of grain and being unable to do ...st enough he was cruelly whipped, ...oy's cries being heart rending to ... who heard them.

—There was amusement on north East ... Tuesday evening. Councilman Haberman thought to entertain ...self and friends by his first attempt ...bicycle and he did entertain them ...gh he only rode ten feet. That was ...gh. His hasty dismount tore pants ...coat and served to make the excel...ity dad look more like a victim of a ...ing mustang than a street and alley ...mitteeman.

Upper Sandusky Republicon: J. C. ... of Marion, Fridayed in this city. ...am Reber, of Marion, was in the ...Sunday.——Chas. Lederman of Ma... was in town Monday.——F. H. ...tram, of Marion, was in this city Sat...urday.——Henry Kowalke, of Marion, ...in town Tuesday on business.——...Richardson, of Marion, Miss Alger, ...ston, and Mr. Grace, of Dayton, are ...guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Watson.

The Council duly authorized Mayor ... to contract with the Cleveland ...'s House for the mantenance of ...ners from this city, and the Mayor ...already contracted to do so. Here...prisoners will be sent there to work ... instead of fattening in the ...prison. The expense of sustenance ... cheaper for the corporation in ... way even after the railroad fare is ... and it will no donbt prove a more ...tive punishment for the chronic ...s and bad characters generally.

—Patsy Kelly went to Bucyrus Thursday on pike business.

—Prof. Moran was among the excursionists at Kenton Tuesday.

—There is a movement on foot to organize a new band by some of the Big Six.

—Bucyrus Critic, Tuesday: Messrs Eph and Mat Monnett are in Marion today.

—G. W. Criswell came over from Mt. Gilead this week to visit his son, the Probate Judge.

—Miss Nettie Smith, of Salt Rock township, was visiting friends and relatives in this city.

—Miss Minnie Bonerice, of Canton, is visiting in Marion, the guest of her cousin, Miss Jennie Gibbs.

—William Miller and Mattie J. Mattox were married yesterday at New Bloomington by Rev. M. A. Powers.

—The County Commissioners held a pike session Wednesday, paying bills for repairs and improvement made.

—M. Bowman the popular grocer of Somerset Ohio, was the guest of Joseph Sweinhart and family Thursday.

—A number went to Columbus Thursday to see a game of ball between Pittsburg and Cincinnati at that place.

—Drummers continue to come and go, which looks as if somebody intended to do some business the coming fall.

—The "hanger" announcing the Ohio State Fair from August 31st to September 4th is out. It is a work of art.

—Dr. B. Mincer, of Detroit, arrived in the city Thursday to be ready for his Saturday practice in this place. He thinks some of locating here.

—Mrs. A. H. Kling and son V. H. have returned from Crookston, Minn,, where they have been spending the past month visiting among relatives.

—The Marion Gun Club has permanently organized with Wm. Fies, president and captain; Camden Stone, secretary; and J. W. Thew, Treasurer.

—The ladies of the M. E. Church of Galion will run an excursion from West Salem to the soldiers Home at Dayton Saturday August, 15. For particulars see bills.

—Nine car load of fine cattle shipped from Marion Monday by the following parties: Oliver Monnett, Mervin J. Monnett, Daniel Rexorth and Mrs. J. L. Monnett.

—The sale of tickets at the C. and A. office during the month of July was larger than it has been any month since the road has been built. This shows that the passenger business of the road is increasing.

—Our readers will please excuse us for the poorly printed paper we are sending them this week and we will do better next week. Our rollers very suddenly became unfit for use and we are detained in getting new ones.

—Mt Gilead Sentinel: J. R. Rupe, of Marion, is visiting the family of his son, L. E. Rupe, of this place.——Dr. Hahn and lady drove from Marion and were the guests with Mr. Dennis Loren and family, Saturday and Sunday.

—"I am not a candidate." is the resigned refrain of the coy politician at this juncture. But a closer investigation discloses that he is "in the hands of his friends', and ready to catch on to any unoccupied boom that happens along.

—Farming may be overdone in this county, nevertheless we imported 160,951 tons of hay last year, paying therefor $1,517,850; and also imported 16,098, 415 dozen eggs for which $2,476,672 were paid. An average of 15 cents per dozen.

—The Bee Line will sell round trip tickets to Springfield Ohio via Bellefontain commencing Aug. 11th and close sale Aug. 13th at $2 20 for general public and $1 45 for G. A. R. in uniform or wearing badges for round trip. Good to return until Aug. 15th inclusive.

—The damnable gossips of this town are worse than a scourge. To hear the insulting and suggestive remarks concerning a recent event in society is enough to paralyze a throughly respectable person. These beings are a bitter curse to a community and Marion seems to have and undue share.

—James Ryan, extra yardman for the N. Y. P. and O. in this city, has lost an eye during the past week. About two weeks ago the eye ball was severely burned by a hot cinder and by having it professionally tampered with he has lost the sight in the eye entirely. Jim regrets his loss very much.

—A number have asked us if the business houses would close today on account of the Memorial Services and we have been unable to answer. The request has been made for them to do so, but coming as the services do, on Saturday, it is almost impossible to do so. There may be a suspension of business for two hours or more.

—Yard engine 25, of the C., H. V. and T., was takento Columbus Thursday evening for repairs and engine 26 put in its place. This changes the engineers and James Huffman will pull the throttle in the Columbus yards until his engine is in order again. Mart Rickstraw is running 26 this week and is right at home because he has been here before.

—Mrs. Wm. Wayland, daughter of Rev. Joseph Fields near Caledonia, died very suddenly Monday afternoon, at the home of her father. She had been complaining some time but was thought not to be dangerous. She ate her dinner Monday noon with the family and had an attack of hemorrhage of the lungs and died within a few minutes. Was buried Tuesday afternoon at Claridon.

—Our young friend John Minehart led Miss Mary A. Schaber to the alter of marriage at the bride's mother's in New Bloomington Thursday afternoon. About fifty invited guests were present and the occasion was a happy one no doubt. After John and bride receive the good wishes of their many friends they will depart for their future home in Michigan. We wish them much happiness.

—About eleven o'clock Wednesday night a form endeshabille was seen to fly through the air from the Hotel Marion and seek seclusion and a dressing place in the dark recesses of some alley. Investigation proved it to be a fellow fired from the hotel by its proprietor for seeking to pass the night with one of the demimonde from Kenton. Experience goes to show that that is not allowed at the Marion. The spectacle proved very amusing to spectators.

—Rollie Crosson and sister Jennie, of Marseilles, are visiting in the city, the guests of J. E. Rhoads and family, on south East street.

—Mrs. J. B. Lewis returned to Mt. Gilead Tuesday after a week's visit in Marion, the guest of Mrs. J. H. Criswell, on west Center street.

—The musical entertainment given by Lizzie and Laura Hudson on Wednesday evening was a complete success. Quite a number were present and all enjoyed the occasion.

—The first born is always conducive of great joy, but it is doubly so with Mr. and Mrs. Job Shrock. Mrs. Shrock presented twins, a boy and girl, to Mr. Shrock Monday.

—Herman Falkenbach, passenger agent of the Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo, went to Detroit with the fourteenth regiment Tuesday morning. He will return today.

—Caledonia dotes on pitching horse shoes, and enter the town at whatever hour you may you will find gangs at that amusement. "A nickle a corner" is frequently added to make it interesting.

—Policeman John Muntsell pulled one bum and one drummer at the Junction Wednesday evening and deposited them in the city cooler. They were both thoroughly "How came you so" and he pulled them mainly for their own good.

—Romoser & Inskeep have a force of men busily engaged putting the tin roof upon the new court house. It had been generally supposed that this job was to be done by a foreign firm and our people are glad to know that a local house is doing it.

—G. W. Ault and Mrs. Chas. Warrick were in the city Friday on their way from Caledonia to Columbus with Mrs. Alice Wickess whom they are taking to the Asylum for the Insane. A hope is entertained that in a few months Mrs. Wickess' mind may be restored sufficiently for her to return to Caledonia.

—There is a remarkable scarcity of good butter in this vicinity just at present. There is every indication that plenty of butter is being made but the sensible housewife is packing it for winter sales instead of disposing of it for eight cents per pound. The same butter will be worth over twenty cents this winter.

—The sixth annual convention of county Recorders will be held at the Weddell House, Cleveland. A large attendance is expected and the object of the meeting is to devise systems of recording which shall be uniform throughout the State. The laws governing the records are somewhat imperfect and some action looking toward their perfection will be taken.

—The trouble between the conductors and brakeman and management, growing out of an attempt to run "double-header" trains on the Youngstown division of the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio railroad, which culminated Tuesday night in a refusal of the men to run trains, is at an end, the company abandoning the double-header system and the men returning to work.

—A good sized audience was finely entertained at Central School Hall Thursday night by the recitals of Miss Lucia May Wiant. The attendance was large considering the weather and the satisfaction evinced by the hearers speaks well for Miss Wiant. She has rare power as an elocutionist and is well cultured in the study. She cannot fail to please wherever her elocution recitals are given.

—The gas well is down the depth of about 700 feet and gas has been struck. The flow of gas is light and at present it cannot be used on account of the water in the well. Mr. Coe is having casing put in in order to dry the well and is satisfied that when that is done he will have sufficient gas to run his engine. The success of the search for natural gas is now assured and the time is not long until the strong flow of it will be had.

—About twenty of the friends of Miss Jessie Patten gave her a genuine surprise party at her home on north Main street Tuesday evening, the occasion being her 18th birthday anniversary. Supplied with the necessary articles for a bounteous feast they marched in and spent a delightful evening with their excellent hostess. Every guest vied in making it an enjoyable and pleasant occasion and succeeded admirably. Among those present from abroad were Daniel Miller, of Tiffin, Joseph Miller, of Ft Wayne, Ind., and Chas. Beach, of Upper Sandusky; Miss Hannah Potter, of Agosta, Millie Miller, of Upper Sandusky, and Katie Beaker, of Columbus.

H. C. Sharpless & Co. are doing a big business at their Lumber and Coal yard. Call and see them. 3-t3

Marion County Medical Society.

The Marion County Medical Society met at the City Hall on Tuesday. The President, Dr. Denman in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

On motion the report of the committee on admissions was received and Dr. Britton of Claridon was elected to membership.

On motion of the Secretary, each member of the Society are requested to furnish the Society with the date and place of graduation and college in which the member graduated, that a medical history of the members of the Society may be preserved.

Dr. Thomas read a very valuable and interesting paper on phlegmonos inflammation of the Pelvis and Abdoman, giving the history of several cases.

Dr. Uhler reported a case of abscess of the hip in a young child.

Dr. Mouser reported a case of necrosis of the tibea in a boy twelve years old.

Dr. Crane, of Waldo, was present and on motion was invited to participate in the deliberations of the Society. Subsequently he made application to become a member and the application was referred to the Committee on Admissions.

Dr. Rhu was appointed to read a paper at the next meeting, and Dr. Uhler was appointed alternate.

The members of the Society participated in discussing a number of subjects pertaining to medicine and surgery; and after a very interesting and profitable meeting the Society adjourned to meet on the first Tuesday of September at the City Hall.

One case came before the Society suffering from disease of the lungs for consultation.

H. C. Sharpless & Co.,

Lumber Dealers, are headquarters for all kinds of building material. 3-t3

Teachers' Institute.

[Continued from Sixth Page.]

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

Order called at 1:30 p.m. Reading of the minutes of the forenoon session, after which Prof. Moore followed with a 20 minutes' drill in music. Butler, Hunter and Hufford then came forward on queries. Prof. Ranck next illustrated his method of teaching grammar by sentences. Prof. Hunter was called next, who illustrated Addition. After a recess of fifteen minutes Prof. Butler was called, who had quite an interesting recitation on Participles. Then Prof. Hufford came in with those knotty problems again about the clock, and those which embraced every case in percentage.

Adjourned till 9 a.m. Friday morning.

NOTES.

J. S. Adams has been appointed as one of the executive committee, in Prof. E. E. Henry's absence.

The Institute is very much pleased with its president. Ladies, he is a single man and in the market.

Over 100 registered yesterday, which swells the roll to over 275 lively workers.

The Mirror was badly off its assertion Thursday in regard to the Institute. No one should say what they do not know to a certainty.

Prof. Hufford leaves to-night on the C. and A. for his work in the Normal School at Middleport Ohio. He returns his thanks to the teachers of Marion Co., for their cordial support: and wishes them success in their work.

Prof. Hufford says this is the best Institute he has ever attended.

The music by Prof. Moore was one of the leading features of the Institute.

FRIDAY MORNING.

Order called and Prof. Moore led in music. Minutes of preceding session read and approved. Music again followed, after which President Sager spoke of Nominating Committee on Resolutions and Query Box. Prof. Hufford was called, who took up the subject of arithmetic. Following him Prof. Hunter proceeded with the subject of Geography, locating the principal cities of the United States, and why so located. After an intermission Prof. Irish, of Lima, was called, who introduced his system of diagraming and analyzing some very difficult sentences, such as "He entered into a certain man's house named Joshua;" and "Ah, Warwick! Warwick! vert thou as we are." As this institute was the fifth one he had visited this week, he, as usual, could give just what we wanted for the school room.

Prof. Hunter, of Bloomington, Indiana, was called, who took up the subject of "Acquired Territory," and thus continued thirty-five minutes, when Prof. Butler, of Defiance, gave a "Drill in Reading and "Punishments for the School Room," which was highly appreciated by all. Adjourned.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Order was called at 1 p. m. Music. Minutes read and approved. Music. Then the "Querie Box" was emptied, and Hufford, Hunter and Butler gave their farewell remarks. Next Miss Mercer, of Ada, O., gave a recitation. The Normal School question was next discussed. The election then took place, resulting in the election of J. S. Adams, President; Miss Gale Straub, of Waldo, as Secretary; Frank Stoll and W. S. Ramer, as Executive Committee. Rev. Bates then pronounced the benediction. Adjourned.

Musicale.

Last evening, the elite of our beautiful city were so handsomely and artistically entertained with music, recitations and last but not least, the elegancies and delicacies of the table at the beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. Cummin, under the musical direction of Miss Eva Hummer, our charming music teacher, who now, as ever occupies the first place as a musician and teacher, as she so well demonstrated by the way her pupils acquitted themselves. Miss Mamie Fairfield, a little miss of less than eight years, played a violin solo excellently; Miss Winnie Cummin, a Mozart and Chopin selection in a spirited dash, which surprised her musical audience and no doubt in the near future will give us another opportunity of judging of her progress.

The singing of Miss Lizzie Hummer was quite a surprise indeed, her style was true and of artistic conception, and and by all odds the most charming singing we ever heard by a Marion singer.

The recitations by Miss Nannie Johnston were excellent in every particular. One can't imagine a better interpretation than she gave so beautifully and perfect in every detail.

Dr. Adams played a violin solo in an excellent manner. It was his first appearance and we trust not his last one.

Miss Hummer gave a rendition of several classics and gave a violin solo in an artistic manner as only she can to the delight of everyone present.

Last but not least Miss Carrie Wallace showed that she can accomplish music.

This musicale no doubt was the most enjoyable one given during our past summer, besides the royal entertainment of one of the most charming hostesses in our community. This now past but not easily forgotten, recherche affair will be long remembered by all.

ATTENDANT.

Agosta.

Agosta is prospering.

Business is picking up.

John Burk took in 500 bushels of wheat after nine o'clock last night.

Tom Kelly's man was in town today.

M. A. Powers, our sawmill man, met with a serious accident yesterday. While sawing he undertook to move the guide, the wrench slipped and the saw caught his middle finger, lacerating it so bad that it had to be amputated. Drs. Reed and Paton performed the operation and at last reports he was doing well. It was a close call for his life.

David Beckley is selling lots of hardware at very low prices.

Burk shipped fifteen car loads of wheat last week.

The Weekly STAR is the best paper published in Marion, it is a credit to its publishers. Success to the STAR.

Agosta, O., Aug. 5,'85. JUSTICE.

Recognition Service.

The First Baptist church of Marion, Ohio, have invited pastors of churches at Delaware, Radnor, Prospect, Richwood, Galion, Bucyrus and Norwalk to meet in the Evangelical church on Tuesday, Aug. 11, at 3 o'clock p. m. and at night to have a public Recognition Service. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend these meetings.

Reunion of the Fourth Reg. O. V. I.

The 20th Reunion of the 4th O. V. I., was held at Kenton, O., August 5th. It was a grand success. The committee of arrangements was well satisfied with their work.

Companys G and D were from Hardin county, and to them give all the honor and credit for the fine reception of the Fourth boys on the above day. The entertainment given was all that could be desired. We had the pleasure of meeting the son of our first and honored Lieut. Col. Cantwell, who left us after raising the 82nd O. V. I., and was killed in battle while in the line of duty at the front.

Five hundred dollars was guaranteed by the several companies of the regiment for the publication of its history. It will be published in a short time as it is now in manuscript form, after two years labor by our historian, Comrad Templar, High Private in the rear rank and now Professor of the college at Ada, O.

Among the comrades present were Gen. Robinson, Sec'y of State, Gen. Jones, of Delaware, not forgetting Bob McCaty and Cas Kowalka, Capt. of Company E, Fourth O. V. I.

With the kindest feeling for every member of the grand Fourth O. V. I.

I remain yours,

Marion, O., Aug. 6,'85. Rex.

The Trap and Trigger.

The Gun Club held their regular shoot at the fair grounds Wednesday with the following score as a result:

...Camp	0 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1—9
...Close	0 0 1 1 1 0 1 0 1 1—6
...Ridenbaugh	1 1 1 0 1 1 1 1 1 0—8
...uch	1 0 0 0 0 1 1 1 1 1—6
...Ridenbaugh	1 1 1 1 1 0 1 1 1 1—9
...Stone	1 0 1 1 1 1 1 0 0 0—6
...ew	1 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 1—4
Crouse	0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—2
...C. Lee	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 0—2
...yan	0 0 1 1 0 0 1 1 1 1—6
...Fies	1 1 0 0 1 1 1 1 1 0—7

A Stolen Horse.

Delaware Chronicle: Thomas Manley, whose home is in Marion county, was visiting his son-in-law, Mr. Byron Case, in Orange township, this county, several days, and suddenly left Monday. After his departure one of Mr. Case's horses was missing, and it is now ascertained that Manley took the animal. Mr. Case at once started in pursuit, but at last accounts had failed to capture his father-in-law.

A Good Farm

Of 150 acres for rent, in Logan county, Ohio, 11 miles this side of Bellefontaine. Good buildings and living water the year round. For further particulars inquire at STAR office or J. J. Sloan, East Marion, Ohio.

Call on H. C. Sharpless & Co. before you buy your Lumber and Shingles and they will save you money. 3-t3

Vera Cruz's Battered Image.

[Fannie B. Ward's Letter.]

On the water side of Vera Cruz stands a stone image, whose bruised countenance tells a queer tale of feminine credulity. From time immemorial it has been believed that if a marriageable woman shall hit this image squarely in the face with a stone, she will immediately obtain a husband and an advantageous settlement in life. The inventor of the fable was evidently acquainted with the fact that women are not expert in throwing stones. Were it not for his lamentable disability the poor image would have been totally demolished years ago. As it is the battered face has lost all semblance of features, and heaps of small stones, lying all about, attest the industry of the Mexican maidens, as well as their good sense in desiring matrimonial settlement. The tumble-down church, behind which it stands, has a remarkable number of female attendants, especially at vesper services. The homeward path lies directly past the image, and many a pebble is slyly tossed under the friendly shadow of the gloaming by women young and old.

Holding Sick Men.

[Aurora (Ills.) Blade.]

There is something kind of strange about this business of "holding" a fellow when he is out of his head. First some one discovers that a sick man's mind is wandering. Then the watcher gets three or four others and they gather about the subject and lay hands on him. The patient begins to pull and push, and they brace themselves and hang on. If they can't "hold" him, the rest of the neighborhood is called in, and the poor, feverish fellow is exhausted and made weaker than a cat. But, you bet your life, he is "held." All people who are very sick must be "held."

Bookbinder's Paper.

[Chicago Times.]

The black and red, red and white, or blue and white variegated paper used by bookbinders in covering the sides of book covers costs $40 per ream of 480 sheets. It is manufactured by a certain old family in France that owns the secret of making it, and charges its own prices. Having grown rich out of the monopoly, these Frenchmen do not now make above 100 reams annually.

The Wall Paper at Longwood.

The pattern of the wall paper on the room in which Napoleon died at St. Helena continues as it was at the time of his death, being made especially for it in France, and renewed as often as needed. In 1858 Longwood was bought by the French.

Dr. Leonard's Card.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 4.—The following card from Dr. Leonard appears in the Commercial Gazette:

"I have not hitherto, during the present campaign, troubled you with corrections of the many misrepresentations of my speeches that have found place in your columns. But an item contained in an editorial is so utterly at variance with the truth, that I request you to allow a correction ...

The Edelweiss.

The edelweiss, that Alpine flower which has been the desire of tourists and the frequent cause of accidents, will no longer be the symbol of hardy adventure, since it now tamely grows in common garden earth mixed with a little lime.

War on the Sharks.

A wealthy Cuban has fitted out a steam vessel for the sole purpose of catching sharks. His object is to make bloody war on the creatures, and he expects to kill at least 5,000 per year.

The Young Idea.

[Philadelphia Call.]

"Now, George, you must divide the cake honorably with your brother Charles."

"What is honorably, mother?"

"It means that you must give him the larger piece."

"Then, mother, I'd rather that Charles should divide it."

Rambler: Mamie—Why, Sadie, you have let your hair grow dark again. Last time I saw you it was a lovely blonde.

Sadie—Yes, dear; but you know I am in mourning now for poor, dear papa. I'm not wearing light shades at all.

New York Times: "Well, Johnny," said his mother, "did you have a pleasant time at the Sunday School picnic?"

"Naw," Johnny growled. "I didn't get nothin' to eat but a san'which an' a couple of dry cookies with red sand sprinkled on top."

"Why, what became of the beautiful chocolate cake and chicken salad that I gave you to contribute?"

"The superintendent an' the teachers eat em."

Boston Transcript: A 10-year-old Rochester boy on the cars coming to Troy the other day became hungry about 11 o'clock, and began an attack upon the bountiful lunch that had been prepared for him. A gentleman who sat behind him was moved to remark:

"My boy, if you eat much now you won't have any appetite for your dinner."

To which the smart boy replied:

"Well, I guess if I haven't any appetite I shan't want any dinner."

The gentleman had no more to say.

'Lecshneering Agin Andy.

[Arkansaw Traveler.]

Col. Will Beasley, who has just returned from the mountain districts of Arkansas, was determined not to be outdone by the squatters. "One day," said the colonel, "I stopped near a cabin and asked of an unconcerned-looking man who sat on a fence:

"'How far is it from here to Jones' ferry?'

"'How fur is what?'

"'The road.'

"'What road?'

"'To Jones' ferry.'

"'Do you want to go thar?'

"'Yes, or I wouldn't ask how far it is.'

"'Didn't know but you was out surveyin' the country.'

"He leaned over the fence, spit at something on the ground, and, seemingly, dismissed the subject from his mind.

"'Come, wake up,' said I, but he paid no attention to me. Then I thought it would be a good idea to startle him.

"'My friend,' said I, 'did you know that Andrew Jackson was dead?'

"He jumped off the fence and shouted: 'Nose, fetch me my gun here quick. Here's a blamed feller 'lecshneerin' agin' old Andy.'"

Get Through in One Heat.

[Robt. J. Burdette.]

My son, if you want to acquire the ability of making short speeches, let me whisper in your ear: Tell the truth. Just stick to the plain, every day, unvarnished truth, and you'll never talk longer than fifteen minutes, and sometimes you'll get through in one heat, 1:11¼. If a man comes home from the brook and says simply: "I caught a trout that weighs 4½ pounds," you can believe him. But if he begins by telling you where he bought his rod, how much he paid for it, how big a bass he took with it last summer, what kind of a reel he had on, what fly he used, the length and strength of his casting line and how long he played the trout before he landed it—my boy, that man may begin with the honestest intention in this world, but by the time he gets the trout in to the landing net he will lie from three to five pounds in spite of himself and a Christian mother.

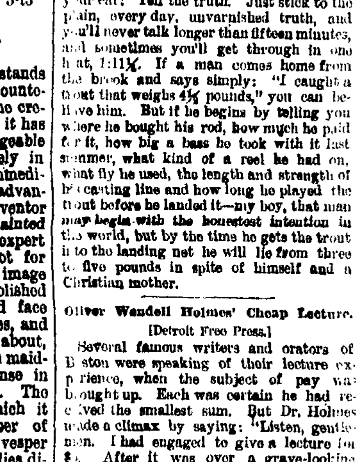

Oliver Wendell Holmes' Cheap Lecture.

[Detroit Free Press.]

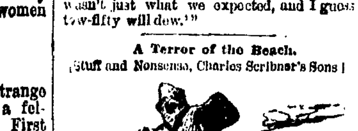

Several famous writers and orators of Boston were speaking of their lecture experience, when the subject of pay was brought up. Each was certain he had received the smallest sum. But Dr. Holmes made a climax by saying: "Listen, gentlemen. I had engaged to give a lecture for $5. After it was over a grave-looking deacon came to me and said: 'Mr. Holmes, we agreed to give you $5, but your talk wasn't just what we expected, and I guess two-fifty will dew.'"

A Terror of the Beach.

[Stuff and Nonsense, Charles Scribner's Sons.]

Said this person who hails from Glen Cove: "As the beach is quite empty I'll rove."
He hadn't gone far,
When his unlucky star

Ran him into young girls quite a drove.

The Boarders Liked It.

[Arkansaw Traveler.]

A year or more ago an auctioneer in this city had for sale a lot of homoeopathic medicines. All these medicines were dumped into one pile and disposed of in one lot, there being various kinds of medicines in the lot. A boarding-house keeper bought the lot, and some days after the purchase the auctioneer asked her:

"What did you do with that homoeopathic medicine, Mrs. ——?"

She replied: "I thought I could use it, and it was cheap, and so I crushed it under the roller and then filled my sugar bowl with it. The boarders seemed to like it, and especially when powdered over pies."

The Revised Alphabet.

[Peck's Sun.]

Scene—English primary school. Mistress teaching her class the alphabet. To Johnny (aged 5.)—Now, Johnny, let's hear how well you can say your letters right through.

Johnny—Ha, be, se, de, he, hef, ge, haitch —

Schoolma'am—Can't you say "aitch," Johnny?

Johnny—Yessem—haitch, hi, ja, ka, hel——

Schoolma'am—What! There's no such letter as that. You mean L.

Johnny—Yessem, Ill know, but my ma says we mustn't say hell any more, cos they calls it sheol now.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

GRAVES OF PRESIDENTS

WHERE THEY ARE LOCATED AND HOW THEY ARE MARKED

The Mount Vernon Association and Washington's Tomb — Lincoln's Resting Place With Its Pile of Marble — The Work of Vandals Everywhere

NEW YORK, Aug 3.—The death of Gen. Grant and the discussion which has arisen from the selection of the Riverside park in this city as a burial ground for his remains have awakened interest in the places where the other ex-presidents of the United States have been interred.

The grave of Washington is, as every American knows, at Mount Vernon, Va. Thanks to the care of the Mount Vernon association, Washington's old home and the tomb to which his remains were removed in 1837 from the old vault in which they had been up to that time are in good condition. The vault is large and built of brick, with an arch roof. Through an iron gate the two sarcophagi are seen. The one in which lie the ... open vestibule ... of ... Pennsylvania marble. That of Washington bears an American shield; the other but two words—"Martha Washington."

Two presidents, father and son, sleep side by side beneath the Unitarian church of Quincy, Mass. John Adams' body was first buried in the family vault in the Quincy cemetery and was transferred to its present resting place in 1828. John Quincy Adams died February, 1848, in Washington, and his remains were placed by those of his father a few months later.

In a thick growth of woods a few hundred yards from the road leading from Charlottesville, Va., to Monticello, is the grave of Thomas Jefferson, who died on July 4, 1826. It is marked by a coarse granite obelisk ... after a pen and ink sketch ... a few days after his death. ... vandals ... have visited the ... the ... and ... the monument ... the corners ... present the appearance of rough unhewn stone.

Near the former home of James Madison, at Montpelier, four miles from Orange, Va., in the center of a large field, surrounded by a substantial brick wall five feet high, are four graves. The iron gate ... a plate ... "In memory of James Madison, 1836." Over one of the graves, a well ... and neatly turfed mound, a slender granite shaft rises to a height of twenty feet from a pedestal of four ... It bears in large ... sunken letters this inscription: "Madison, born March 16, 1751." The date of death (June 28, 1836) is not given.

Near the extreme southwestern limit of Hollywood cemetery, at Richmond, Va., repose the remains of James Monroe. Monroe died in this city on July 4, 1831, and his body was removed twenty-seven years later to Richmond under the escort of the Seventh regiment, then commanded by Col. Abram Duryea. The resting spot is marked by a huge block of polished Virginia marble, eight feet long and four feet square, on which rests what is called the sarcophagus, a granite block nearly as large as the pedestal but wrought into the shape of an ... Over and around this rather odd monument is a fancy Gothic temple twelve feet long, nine feet wide and twenty feet high, four pillars resting upon a foundation of dressed Virginia granite and supporting a peaked roof.

Eleven miles from Nashville, on the pretty Lebanon pike, is the Hermitage. Sixty rods away is the now dilapidated wooden house Andrew Jackson vacated when he moved into his famous dwelling. In a corner of the garden, eighty yards from the house, lie the president and his wife under a massive monument of Tennessee limestone. Three steps lead to a circular area eighteen feet in diameter, from which spring eight fluted Doric columns supporting a pretty though plain entablature and dome surmounted by an urn. In the center of the platform is a pyramid resting on a square. On the left is a stone marked "Gen. Andrew Jackson. Born March 15, 1767. Died June 8, 1845."

Martin Van Buren's bones repose in the crowded graveyard at Kinderhook, N. Y. A plain granite shaft fifteen feet high shows the tomb. On one face of the shaft is this inscription in black letters: "Martin Van Buren, VIIIth President of the United States. Born D... 1782. Died Jul... 1862." Below this is the record of his wife's death and upon another side is the name of his son.

William Henry Harrison, the great Whig chieftain, who occupied the chief magistrate's chair for a month only, was buried by the side of his wife and children in a plain brick vault on the summit of a hill at North Bend, Ohio. A flat stone at the height of about two and a half feet from the ground, roofs the brickwork of the vault. It bears no inscription.

Just ten yards from Monroe's grave in Hollywood cemetery, Richmond, Va., is a tufted mound, but not a stone is there to tell that beneath lies the body of John Tyler.

The body of James Knox Polk was buried in June, 1849, in the city cemetery of Nashville. ... the garden of the Polk mansion ... that ... The monument is twelve feet square ... high and is of limestone. Its style is Grecian Doric, though the columns are united ... which support the ... entablature ...

Zachary Taylor's body now occupies its ... It was first placed in the ... at Washington, then removed to ... Louisville and finally to Frankfort, Ky., where it was placed near the tomb of Vice President Richard Mentor Johnson.

... cemetery near Buffalo contains the body of Millard Fillmore, marked by a plain tombstone inscribed with his name and the dates of his birth and death respectively, January 7, 1800, and March 8, 1874.

Franklin Pierce ... was buried ... N. H. The grave is ... six feet high. The ... Italian marble ... granite ...

[illegible]

... Andrew Johnson's grave is ... a fifty ... shaped eminence half a mile southwest of Greenville, Tenn. It is of marble, a shaft thirteen feet high, festooned at the top with the American flag and surmounted by an eagle with outstretched wings.

James A. Garfield's body lies in a vault in ... cemetery, Cleveland, O.

Beating Carpets by Steam.

The process of steam carpet beating is not generally understood. Some persons having an idea that, by this process, the carpets are ... and ... subjected to a beating that ... takes out the last particle of dust ... There are several styles of machine, but the process in all of them is entirely free from either of the above methods.

The carpets are simply placed in a cylinder twelve feet in diameter and fifteen feet long and agitated until they are clean. The cylinder is perforated, or, more correctly speaking, the spaces between the cross bars constituting the outer part of the cylinder are sufficient to afford thorough ventilation to the carpets and allow the dust to escape. All the dirt and dust as it falls through the openings in the cylinder, is drawn downward and outward by a patent suction fan and blown outside the building. The carpets are agitated by the revolving of the cylinder till after an hour's experience they come free from dust and moths, and appear like new fabrics. The nap is raised and brightened and without the slightest injury to the most delicate fabric.

How to Form a Library.

[The Bookbuyer.]

A well known author recently commended the following rules to be observed by youthful readers who are beginning the collection of books:

Set apart a fixed sum, weekly or monthly, as the case may be, in proportion to your income, and spend that and no more for books.

Always devote a portion of your money to acquiring works of reference.

Never buy a worthless book or edition.

Take care not to buy too many books of one class.

Do not, at least until you have a fair row of books, be deluded into buying sets of an author.

Do not spend too much on magazines.

Be particular as to the binding of your books.

Keep a catalogue of your books, entering in pencil inside of each the date of purchase and the cost, and in the catalogue all particulars as to loans.

Take care to read what you buy, and buy only what you will read.

The History of a Rose.

[Harland Wate.]

A very curious story is told as to the discovery of the variety of rose known as the White Provence, La Blanche or ... Mr. Daniel Grimond, of Little Chelsea, nurseryman, was on business in the county of Norfolk 110 years ago, when riding leisurely along the road he received a rose of great whiteness in a ... He alighted and on close inspection discovered it to be a Provence rose. He sought an interview with the inmate of the mill, an elderly woman, and begged a flower, which was given to him. The old lady must, no doubt, have been considerably surprised in being in turn presented with a guinea.

In cutting off the flower," so runs the tale, "Mr. Grimond cut three buds, and on arriving at the nearest inn he packed up the flower and sent it directly to Chelsea, addressed to his foreman. Two of the buds grew, and the following autumn the florist went down to Norfolk again and bought the whole stock for ... guineas. The foreman was then allowed to propagate it, and for doing so was allowed ... shillings a plant for three years. At the expiration of that time the plants were sold at a guinea apiece, the foreman's share of the profits amounting to ... pounds sterling. Not the least pleasant part of this pleasant little romance of the rose is the fact that the old lady who had been the unconscious discoverer of a grand secret in horticulture was gratified by receiving out of the proceeds of the undertaking a handsome present consisting of a silver tankard and other plate of the value of 60 pounds sterling.

The Caribs of Honduras.

[... Press.]

The Caribs or Caras who are met in British Honduras existed, it is said, as a powerful race in prehistoric times and spread gradually under different names over the globe. They themselves assert that they came from the north. At the time of the discovery of America they were in a complete state of decadence, although they had been previously a highly civilized people. They sell yams and a kind of bread called cazave. In crowds their peculiar language, which resembles the sound of gloo gloo indefinitely repeated, attracts attention at once. Oddly enough they use the French numerals up to ten, though French is seldom spoken in British Honduras. The Carib women dress in skirts, but wear no jacket over their low necked undergarment. They like gaudy turbans and ornaments.

Didn't Want the Figures.

A good story is told of a New York millionaire who, having had a new ... built ... with an artist ... [illegible]

... Colonel ... and J... who are supposed to be the murderers, made their escape.

GEMS

May'st thou prove a golden chalice,
Filled with holiness like wine —
With rich blessings running o'er
Yet replenished evermore.
—[Miss Mulock.

... a pleasant path without an end
... strange ... sweet surprise
... a hard saying wonderful and wise.
—[Mrs. Kemble.

She doeth little kindnesses
Which most leave undone or despise,
For ... that sets one heart at ease
And ... happiness or peace
Is low esteemed in her eyes.
—[Lowell.

What happy star shone on her birth?
What ... corner of the earth
... for her baby feet
... since ... repeat
On ... the flowerless way they pass
The ... of the grass?
—[Mrs. Annan.

REFUSED THE QUEEN'S REQUEST

A Nice Little Story Which Is Told About Christine Nilsson.

[... Bar.]

One of the presents she prizes most came from her majesty, the queen, who heard Mme. Nilsson at Windsor and with her own hands put a bracelet of ... and diamonds on her wrist. To this a little story is attached. The fact is that Mme. Nilsson had been asked by some nuns who kept a school for poor girls if she would be so extremely kind as to sing once to those little ones, as it would make an impression on them which they would never forget. Mme. Nilsson, too happy to do so much good with so little trouble, promised to come and ... a certain evening.

But what should happen but a visitor under the guise of her majesty's band master called on Mme. Nilsson to sing at the court concert at Buckingham palace. Of course you suppose that she instantly sent to the nuns to express her regret not to be able to sing to the children that night on account of the court concert? Not she. She told her majesty's band master that she was very sorry not to be able to accept the invitation for that evening, as she had an engagement which she could not evade, and that at any future opportunity she would be happy to receive her majesty's command, but that she could not sing at court that evening ... not obey the queen's command not ... at court. Why, every artist ... London desired, before ... the honor of being invited to court! ... what was his concern ... Madame Nilsson said she could not ... her word.

Trembling, returned the messenger, revolving in his mind how he would deliver to her majesty the message that Madame Nilsson had something else to do. However, there was no mincing matters; he had to say it. But what was his astonishment when, instead of ... he expected, he heard ... say, "Oh, I know now. I have been told what that engagement is, and a right noble heart she has. Let Madame Nilsson down at once for the next court concert, and ... what day she can give me the pleasure of singing to me personally." ... like a deer to Madame Nilsson returned the royal courier to take her orders, and thus Madame Nilsson was invited to Windsor and by royal hands adorned with the bracelet above mentioned.

Eels Travelling Overland.

[... Chronicle.]

It has often been remarked that the eels in the ponds of Vincennes park ... leave those waters every spring in large numbers, making their way to the rivers of the Marne or the ... several miles distant. They take advantage of rainy weather when the herbage is wet, and their instinct guides them directly to their destination. New ... have repeatedly been introduced into the lake, but in vain. All seem to have this disposition to leave. Some think that the water of these ponds, having been brought by hydraulic engines, has undergone some change which drives the eels away. But the phenomenon of such migrations by eels and some other fishes is not uncommon. Thus in the marshes of Picardy eels are often found on the grass, going from one pond to another.

Our Young Americans Spread Englishism.

[Hartford ...]

Sixteen countries in Europe, four in Asia and eight in America find their interests in England so great that they keep the shrewdest and most capable diplomats at our capital. Literally our ... to spread, and our power is acknowledged from China to Peru. Whether Liberal or Tory be in Britain, Britain still. Her 35,000,000 of people ... her boundless wealth, her limitless ... the courage, skill, enterprise and ... endurance of her sons are ... of which the ... of the world ... Great has ... story in the past ... and noble ... in the ... days to come.

Competition in Art.

[...]

For Young Artist (displaying a picture)—That is an exact copy of ... which you will ... sold for $1,... Madam ... And how much do you ask for this? ... Young Artist—Two ... The ... difference ... Young Artist ... time. The business is not ...

[illegible]

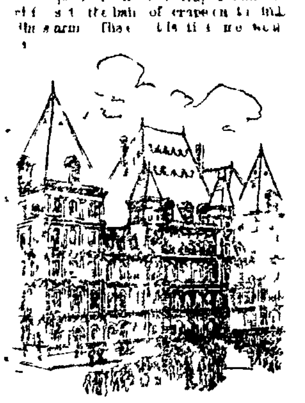

... in England, where it first appeared on the great seal in the reign of Edward IV.

FROM MT. McGREGOR TO ALBANY

Incidents at the New Historic Cottage — The Funeral Cortege at Albany.

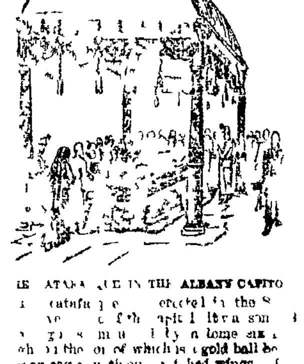

[Special Correspondence.]

ALBANY, Aug. 4.—I have got the ... that ... beloved form ... have ... [illegible] ... the bands of crape on the ...

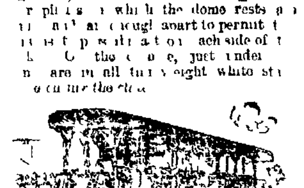

THE CATHEDRAL AT ALBANY.

Not again in a century will ... grand building of ... of the empire state ... the same ... the present occasion. Many of Albany's ... State street hill ... the new capitol ... All such ... Who ... the people could ... All the regular ... extra trains and boats came laden ... thousands ... It seemed ... of the inhabitants of ... New York ... the ... Harlem river had poured ... Finally ... clothes ... it was ... then ... The ... and military regulations ... adequate ... the ... they kept ... from trampling ... another.

THE CATAFALQUE IN THE ALBANY CAPITOL.

The catafalque ... erected in the ... capitol ... It was ... a dome ... on the top of which is a gold ball bearing an eagle with outstretched wings. ... pillars ... which the dome rests ... apart to permit ... on each side of ... the ... just under ... are in all ... eight white ...

THE FUNERAL CAR.

The funeral car ... the capitol was ... as ... The platform was covered with flowers, on which the casket was laid ... the ... The upright posts supported a ... pyramidal form surmounted by a ... Across the eaves ... series of festoons and tassels ... The upright ... with flags ... a third of ... The driver sat on the front of ... by ... six black horses ... led by ... Joseph B. Carr ... and ... they ... not be soon forgotten in this ...

... ARTIST ...

[illegible]

... with Mr. Sartoris and Mrs. Fred Grant.

About 3 o'clock that same afternoon a ...

... opportunity was given the people of the mountain to see the remains of Gen. Grant. ... when it was realized what an ... the populace had ... the ... weeks ... The regular habitues ... a year ago ... with ... it took nearly three ... when ... appeared ...

THE ... AT THE COTTAGE.

... condition ... Mrs. Grant ... J. B... W...

THE PREPARATIONS IN NEW YORK

Illustrations of the ... Where the Dead Hero's Remains Will Rest.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, Aug. ...—The ... of preparations ... will take place ... the dead general ... to bring ... this city ... railroad ... answers you can understand ... hotels ... taxed ... have already ... a great many ... special trains ... at every available railroad ... will be brought into ... crowds to ... from ...

At the City Hall the decorations are completed entirely and ... the ... Mayor Grace ... the credit ... perfecting ... of the ... arrangements ... funeral ... wonderful ... executive capacity. ... general ... The decorations of the City Hall ... temporary ... which ... lying out ... as well as many ... energy.

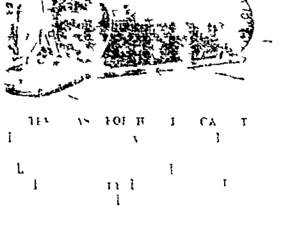

RELIC HUNTER.

One of the crazes that is developing to an ... extent among our people ... mania for relics ... was ... in ... ways in ... with the Grant obsequies. Some ... of the ... guards at Mt. McGregor have carried ... piecemeal the cottage in which General Grant spent his last days ... what ... of those who went to the spot ... the temporary vault ... the ... chips ... the ... a hunted for a pebble ... as a souvenir ... At the ... visitors ... the ... gold screws ... the ... plate ... casket ... only ... visitors. And ... the amount of pilfering ... never be told.

GRANT'S LAST EARTHLY PLACE.

The site chosen for General Grant ... [illegible]

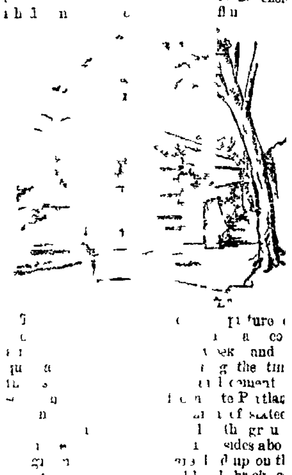

THE ... FOR ... CASKET.

[illegible]

... one-half inches thick ... covered ... imperial purple velvet, with silver trimmings. The plate is of solid gold, four by six inches, ... in plain letters the simple ...

U. S. GRANT.

[illegible]

... ROTHSCHILD.

The ... queen of England ... of Nathaniel ... celebrated ... seat in ... the British ... power was not ... prejudice ... Nathaniel ... of commons for ... house ...

[illegible]

... England possesses in case of a war with Russia.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®